One Dead, Seven Injured In Trenary Car Smashup

Allies Within Gun Range Of Red Hideout

American Jets Win Third Air Battle

TOKYO— (AP) —For the third straight day American pilots today beat Red airmen in a big jet battle over northwestern Korea.

U. S. Sabre jets damaged four Russian-type MIG-15's Tuesday as allied infantrymen knocked North Koreans off key ridges on the eastern battlefront. On the sea fronts United Nations warships silenced a challenge by accurate Communist shore batteries.

Twenty-seven Sabre jets battled 30 Red jets Tuesday in the most evenly matched of the current air fights. They ran their three-day score to six Red jets shot down, 12 damaged.

Ridge Changes Hands

The battle spread over a wide area around Sonchon, 35 miles from the Manchurian border. It was the deepest recent penetration of Korea by Red jets in force.

North Koreans opened up with a terrific artillery barrage in an effort to halt allied infantrymen in the east. But U. N. troops drove ahead two miles in their deepest penetration of that front this year and straightened allied battle lines.

Fierce fighting broke out when the advance carried the allies to the crest of a ridge line looking down on a Red supply area. A see-saw battle broke out and was still underway Tuesday night.

The dominating ridge changed hands six times in the afternoon.

The ridges form the southern rim of a punch bowl valley loaded with Red supplies.

Full Moon Favored

AP Correspondent Nate Polowetzky reported from U. S. Eighth Army headquarters that lack of any large scale action for a week indicated the U. N. offensive has ended, at least temporarily.

He said:

"Allied tactics now, apparently based on the imminence of the rainy season, are to send out patrols in search of the enemy and to prepare for any attack mounted by the Reds."

Return of the full moon, favored time for Chinese attacks, heightened talk of a possible new Communist offensive.

South China May Revolt Against Reds, Solons Told

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Vice Adm. Oscar C. Badger told Senators today he believes there is a chance South China may revolt against the Communists.

Badger, one of the navy's old China hands, testified as the tenth witness in the dismissal of the ouster of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as Pacific commander.

He read to the investigating committees a report he had made to the war college here last March 14.

This said the area of Manchuria, inner Mongolia, Sinkiang, "and possibly, North China," is "generally deemed to be securely under Communist control and definitely subservient to Moscow."

But in the areas of China to the south, it said, there is still "a chance of revolutionary repercussion against Communist tyranny and imperialism."

Badger said he had seen nothing since March to make him change his views.

Korean Policy Quiz To Agree On Four Points

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Two Senators, one for and the other against administration policy in the Korean war and the Far East, said tody the MacArthur inquiry committee may reach broad agreement on four points.

The two, both of whom refused use of their names, said they think majority agreement could be reached that:

(1) Aggression should not be allowed to succeed in Korea; (2) the United Nations should be urged to accept a naval blackade of China; (3) the U. S. should not recognize Red China nor should Red China get a seat in the U. S. security council; (4) Formosa is vital to the U. S.

The Senators, both members of the inquiry committee, expressed this view in separate interviews. With only four new witnesses scheduled, the committee today called vice admiral Oscar Badger, former seventh fleet commander.

The hearing, almost seven weeks old, will probably end next week. Despite possible agreement on some issues surrounding Gen. Douglas MacArthur's dismissal and Korean war plans, sharp disagreement over others will almost certainly result in the filing of two committee reports.

The Republican leaders in the House, meanwhile, conceded today that Democrats probably have enough strength to push the new tax bill through the House.

Mother Of Baseball DiMaggio Boys Dies

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)— Mrs. Rose DiMaggio, an Italian immigrant who gave baseball three major league players, will be buried Thursday.

The 72-year-old widow died yesterday shortly after her son Joe of the New York Yankees flew in from the east.

Dom, outfielder for the Boston Re Sox, arrived after the death. Three other sons, including eldest, former major leaguer Vince, and four daughters were at the bedside.

Rock Resident Fatally Hurt; Baby Escapes

Two Hurt Critically In Headon Crash

One dead, seven injured (two critically), today stood as the toll of a head-on highway crash last night on US-41 near Trenary.

Only occupant of the two cars to escape injury in the crash was a baby one and one-half years old.

Killed almost instantly of a broken neck was Harry L. Birch, 51, of Rock.

Two Critically Hurt

The injured are as follows:

Anthony Delizza (also known as Daniel Blatz), 76, of Osier, condition critical, skull fracture, crushed chest, fractured hip and pelvis, possible internal injuries.

Evelyn Ryerse, about 18, Marquette, condition critical; skull fracture, fractured arm and leg, probable internal injuries. She has been in a coma since the accident and her last name was not known to authorities until nearly noon today.

John J. Levielle, 64, Cooks, condition fair, compound fracture of the knee, lacerated face, internal injuries.

Baby Is Uninjured

Mrs. Virgil N. Plemon, 32, Milwaukee, condition fair, severe lacerations of the left knee, mild concussion, bruises.

Barbara Jean Plemon, 6, condition fair, fractured leg.

Jacqueline Plemon, 4, fractured leg.

United Airlines Pilots Strike

CHICAGO — (AP)—Nine hundred AFL pilots of the United Air Lines went on strike across the nation at 4:55 a. m. (EST) today.

A spokesman for the AFL Air Line Pilots association said that the strike will not affect the UAL pilots flying on the Korean Pacific Airlift operation.

Pickets were set up at key centers, including New York, Chicago, Newark, N. J., Denver, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Ore., and Seatle.

The union and the company have been in dispute over pay rates and working conditions for nearly two years. The pilots voted on March 30 to strike in support of their demands.

The strike call was issued by David L. Behncke, president of the ALPA.

The union and company representatives were scheduled to resume negotiations later today in an effort to settle the lengthy dispute.

Hurled Under Tractor

GRAND RAPIDS —(AP)— Two-year-old Douglas Hendershot was badly hurt Monday playing on a tractor. He threw the tractor into gear and was hurled underneath it. He suffered internal injuries.

WINDSOR, Ont.—(AP)—A spectacular fire visible across the river to Detroit yesterday destroyed a 50-foot derrick once used for salt mining by Canadian industries, Ltd. Two fire companies fought the blaze.

Public Transit Rolls Again In Detroit As 2-Month Strike Ends

DETROIT — (AP)—Trolley cars and city buses rolled on Detroit's streets today for the first time in two months.

An end came last night to the longest major municipal transit strike in the nation's history.

Without their demanded wage increase the AFL's 3,500 street car and bus drivers came back to work this morning after a walkout of 59 days.

Strikers Lose $750 Each

Mediation or arbitration will settle the wage issue.

A fight still apparently remains over Michigan's anti-strike law for public employes, a major element in the transit dispute.

Defense-busy Detroit returned to normalcy. Actually, however, it had never been greatly disturbed production-wise by the long strike.

At no time had there been any serious impairment to factories employing hundreds of thousands of men.

Striking drivers, at a mass meeting last night, roared acceptance of their leaders' recommendation that they end the walkout.

The strike had cut off municipal transportation to a metropolitan area of approximately two and a half million population. But shortly before 4 a. m. (EST) today service was restored.

Union heads gave up the battle grudgingly.

Patrick McIntyre, president of Division 26 of the Operators' Union, said he was acting in the interest of the public and strikers. Each striker lost an estimated $750 in pay.

Union Chiefs Unhappy

"Except for our operators and the people of Detroit, I would not be doing this. I would stay out," McIntyre said. "I would never recommend that you return to work under the conditions imposed if it were only myself involved."

Robert Stack of Chicago, general executive board member of the Amalgamated Union with which the Detroit group is affiliated, spoke in similar vein.

"Naturally," Stack said, "I am unhappy at the outcome. But with cooperation between management and labor, Detroit can work out its transit problem."

The strikers demanded an 8½ cents an hour wage boost to be added to the present $1.67½ base pay. Their fringe pay also is involved.

Florida Crime Quiz Wants To Hear Governor

BALTIMORE — (AP) — Senate crime probers today were sternly awaiting a reply from Florida's Governor Fuller Warren — they want to know if he's going to come to their sessions in Miami this week.

Late last night Senator Herbert R. O'Conor, chief of the Senate sleuths, sent a telegram to the Florida Governor informing him that his presence at the hearings Thursday and Friday is "most necessary."

An official source close to the committee, who wouldn't allow himself to be quoted, said the telegram was "an unprecedented action."

He said the message was in effect "a demand".

Governor Warren was believed to be "somewhere in the Ormond Beach area," and was not immediately available for comment.

In its first report to the Senate, the crime committee criticized big contributions to Governor Warren's election campaign by William H. Johnston, of Jacksonville, Fla., owner of dog-race tracks.

In the past governors of states invaded by crime probers have been "invited" to attend if they care to do so.

Gas Tax Boost Declared Valid

BAY PORT, Mich.—(AP)—Michigan's recent gasoline tax increase will stand up in any court test, the new president of the Michigan Good Roads Federation says.

A. O. Cuthbert of Lansing told a meeting of the federation here Monday that opponents of the 1.5 cent a gallon boost would be "stymied" in any efforts to invalidate or repeal the tax.

The same opinion was expressed by John J. Jacobi, general counsel of the Wayne county road commission. He referred to a move by the Michigan CIO council to force a referendum on the increase.

The council also has indicated the possibility of court action attacking the validity of the legislature's second vote on overriding a veto.

"The preponderance of legal opinion," Jacobi said, "is that the gas tax increase is not subject to a referendum as the state constitution exempts appropriations for state institutions from a referendum."

In the 1920's, he said, the state supreme court twice held the gas tax is an appropriation for a state institution.

MacArthur Tour Hints Campaign To Unseat Truman Bureaucracy

By DON WHITEHEAD

DALLAS, Tex.— (AP)— Gen. Douglas MacArthur has left behind him in Texas the strong impression that he is embarked on a campaign to unseat the Truman administration.

The 71-year-old general's Texas speeches last week carried a hint this may be the primary purpose behind the nation-wide tour he is reported to be planning.

MacArthur came to Texas to defend his proposal that the United Nations forces carry the Korean war against Red China—the basic issue which brought his ouster from President Truman.

Remedy at the Polls

But with this defense, he also opened a bitter all-out attack on administration policies both at nome and abroad.

His Fort Worth speech on Saturday was a blistering attack on the "Drift toward Socialism" and the high cost of "bureaucracy" which he said was making the people mere servants of the state.

And he added: "This leaves the public safeguard in the direct hands of the American people in whom rests constitutionally the ultimate power to rule.

"Time and the course of events require that every citizen do his full part in this essential undertaking."

To many Texans, this appeared to be a strong suggestion from the general that the remedy for the ills he described can be found at the polis.

MacArthur has disclaimed any personal political ambitions. He has said he does not intend to seek political office and his only politics are "God Save America."

But his attacks on the administration could have a political effect in the months to come.

One Error Noted

One editor remarked: "I don't think there's much doubt the general is out to unhorse the administration—even if he isn't going to try to do it as a candidate himself."

Other Texans have made similar comments in their reaction to the MacArthur visit. And there are some—even among his admirers—who believe maybe the general made a strategic error in broadening his attack to include the administration's domestic policies.

Several prominent Texans have said privately they think MacArthur would have left a stronger impression behind him if he had stuck to foreign policy.

But there are others who think the general criticism of "appeasement" in the Korean war and "moral weakness" in the nation's leadership may be felt by the Truman administration for months to come.

Draft Extended Until July, 1955

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman signed into law today a bill lowering the draft age, extending the draft law four years and laying the foundation for universal military training.

The new law keeps the draft in operation until July 1, 1955, and permits the induction of 18½-year-olds for military service if local draft boards exhaust their supply of older eligible men. It makes no change in the present maximum draft age of 25.

The present law, which would have expired on July 9, prohibited the induction of anyone under 19.

The period of service under the new law is 24 months instead of the 21 under the expiring law.

Although the minimum induction age under the new law is 18½ years, men still must register when they become 18.

The new law makes draft-age aliens liable to service if they desire permanent residence; reduces mental and physical standards for acceptance for service; and permits the induction of eligible men whose sole dependents are their wives.

It provides for appointment of a five-man commission to recommend to Congress a system of universal military training for 18-year-olds.

The training system would not become effective until Congress approved it.

House Committee Votes Against More Beef Price Cutting

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The House banking committee has put a hand on price director Michael V. DiSalle's meat price cleaver, tentatively voting to prohibit the two additional beef price cuts DiSalle plans.

The committee acted last night after strong administration support and a renewed flow of cattle to the slaughter pens had apparently made the ex-mayor of Toledo victor in his toughest price fight. Cattle raisers and meat packers have fought the order.

DiSalle has declared the success of the whole effort to control prices and wages may hinge on his efforts to chop live beef prices 19 per cent. A first-stage ten per cent cut is in effort. DiSalle scheduled further reductions, each 4½ per cent, on Aug. 1 and Oct. 1. The Senate banking committee yesterday defeated, seven to five, a proposal similar to the one the House group approved, to bar further beef price roll backs.

Meanwhile, as both House and Senate banking committees were urged by the administration to get out a stiff new controls law, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) called for a five-month extension of present economic controls. He also proposed a delay until Dec 1 of any decision on enacting new taxes.

His move today was seen in some quarters as a Republican reply to a tacit bid by mobilization director Charles E. Wilson yesterday for a compromise to get action by the lawmakers before the present law expires June 30.

Hiccup Victim For 3 Years Gets 19,000 Letters Suggesting Cures

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Jack O'Leary's collection of fan mail was augmented today by 600 letters, all containing suggestions on how to cure the hiccups which have plagued him more than three years.

The haggard, 26-year-old former market manager has received scores of telegrams, telephone calls and sacks full of mail since the announcement that he "celebrated" his third anniversary of hiccuping last Wednesday.

So far, well-wishers throughout the United States and Canada have sent him more than 19,000 letters.

He has tried many of the "cures" they describe—from hypnosis to drinking vinegar. A bartender even came to his home and fixed him some bitters. But nothing worked. Jack hiccups at least once per second, night and day. He apparently has had the longest attack on record.

His mother, Mrs. Margaret O'Leary, 45, expressed gratitude for the many suggestions from sympathetic persons. And she is hopeful that some day something will be found to help her son, who has dropped in weight from 135 to 82 pounds.

Apparently there are hundreds of cures for hiccups. One person urged Jack to eat "gallons and gallons" of ice cream to freeze his throat. But he can eat only carrots, toast, peas and beets and can retain these in his stomach only 20 minutes.

Another remedy: Run until he is exhausted and his heavy breathing will stop the spasms. Unfortunately, Jack is too weak even to walk outside his house.

Yet another "cure": "Take the skin of the craw of 3 chickens and the lining of the gizzard and boil in 6 cups of water until there is only one cup and drink it."

His wracking spasms began after an attack of appendicitis in June, 1948. His mother said the appendix ruptured and that when doctors examined her son they said he was too ill to recover. But she nursed him through the illness.

Physicians believe the persistent hiccups probably are caused by adhesions brought about by peritonitis. But they add that no surgery has been performed to determine the exact cause of the trouble.

Candidates Coy About Entering Presidency Race

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Look at the record and you'd think nobody — well, almost nobody — wants to be president for the four years beginning in January, 1953.

Although the Democratic and Republican nominating conventions are only a little more than a year away, coyness among prospective candidates has reached something of record breaking proportions.

Boyle Only Smiles

One man, President Truman, says he knows what he's going to do. But he hasn't said what that is. Outside of Mrs. Truman—and maybe Margaret—nobody seems to know whether the president is going to run again or not.

If you ask William M. Boyle Jr., the Democratic National chairman, he puts on his most inscrutable smile. Boyle has been practicing it for years and it never worked better.

Boyle doesn't have to worry. His plan of campaign is the same whether Mr. Truman chooses or does not choose to run. He is simply going out to gather up for Mr. Truman all of the convention delegates he can corral.

Democrats Confused

If the president runs, fine and

Moral Standards Weak In Washington Comptroller Claims

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Comptroller General Lindsay C. Warren today told senators there has been "an undoubted weakening of moral standards" in government and out of it. So far as the government is concerned, he said Congress itself must shoulder part of the blame.

Warren, Uncle Sam's boss accountant, is an agent of Congress rather than of the President.

Majority Honest

The comptroller general gave his views as a leadoff witness in hearings on government moral standards before a Senate labor subcommittee. He endorsed a proposal to set up a commission of distinguished citizens to draft methods of shoring up the moral level of the government, including the ethics of Congress.

In a prepared statement, Warren said the vast majority of government employes — especially career government workers—are honest, capable and conscientious. But he said there are some exceptions, and he added:

"A few rotten apples may not contaminate the whole barrel, but they certainly make it smell."

Tougher Laws Urged

A recent check of a government agency which he did not identify showed, Warren said, that "in one regional office every employe had received gifts. They ranged from television sets, cases of liquor and watches to hosiery. The employes seemed to think this to be their inalienable right, a prequisite of their jobs."

Warren said prompt action was taken in that case and the gifts were returned.

Warren called for: (1) Tough criminal laws to punish bribery; (2) A prohibition against talking official business in cocktail lounges and at social functions; and (3) "A compulsory fulltime course" on how the American taxpayer pays the bills, as part of the training of all government officials and employes.

Beaded Roads

The state highway department in Arizona is trying out an innovation intended to make night driving easier. They are imbedding glass beads in the dividing strips of some of Arizona's highways. The beads reflect the light of the cars' headlights and make it easier to "stay on your own side of the road." Looks like the well-dressed highway will soon be wearing beads! Fight Lamprey Fund Boosted

House Votes $500,000 For 1952 Research

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The House today passed a bill by Rep. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich) to authorize spending $500,000 in 1952 for further research and control of sea lampreys in the Great Lakes. It now goes to the Senate

The 1951 appropriation for fighting the fish destroying parasite was $216,000.

Authorities of Michigan and other states and the U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service report the sea lamprey as one of the greatest threats to Great Lakes fish life in history.

Lake trout and other fine food fishes have been killed or damaged by the lamprey, an invader from the ocean. The lamprey attaches to the fish with a sucker-like mouth. Lake Michigan, and Lake Huron have been almost decimated of trout.

Research continues in an effort to find an effective method of control.

Old Apple Orchards Pushed Over For Deer

LANSING —(AP)— Conservation department game men believe they have found a way to make old, worn out apple orchards support more game.

At Rose Lake experiment station near here, they will set a bulldozer to pushing over trees in 10 old orchards.

They will be pushed far enough to permit the game to get at the scrubby apples and to use the branches for cover but not far enough to kill the tree.

To help out, pines and multiflora rose will be planted among the branches to thicken the cover.

First tests of this kind were made with a few old orchards on state land in the thumb Results were encouraging enough to warrant a trial on a bigger scale.

Legion Meets At Ironwood

U. P. Convention Will Open On Friday

IRONWOOD, Mich. — Legionnaires from over 50-odd posts in the Eleventh and Twelfth districts of Michigan will convene here Friday for the annual Upper Peninsula American Legion convention. Several hundred delegates are expected to register for the three-day event.

Ironwood will don its best convention dress during mid-week in preparation for the affair. Decorating firms have been engaged to dress the business district in a special holiday flavor.

State and National Legion notables, including Erle Cocke, jr., national commander, will attend. Cocke will be the principal speaker for the convention banquet, to be held Saturday evening. Also in attendance will be Governor G. Mennen Williams.

Public events slated for the conclave include a 40 et 8 parade and "wreck," the traditional convention parade with 30 elaborately decorated floats and over 30 drum and bugle corps, bands and drill teams participating; a Memorial service for departed Legionnaires, and a music and drill festival featuring top musical and precision drill units from three states.

A joint meeting of the Legion and Auxiliary will call the convention to order Friday. Also on the docket for opening day are a service officers' school, 11th and 12th district meetings, the 40 et 8 parade and "wreck" and an informal affair with dancing at the Legion quarters in the evening.

Saturday, the delegates will convene at noon for a child welfare banquet and meeting at which David Addy, Detroit, chairman of the national child welfare committee, will be principal speaker. The parade and banquet will follow, capped off with the music and drill festival in the evening under the lights at Luther L. Wright athletic field.

Saturday's windup will be a dance and informal get-together at the post quarters.

Adjournment Sunday will be preceded by the final session of the convention, election and installation of officers and the official fifth zone meeting.

Registration of delegates will begin Friday and continue throughout the affair. Headquarters for the Legion will be the Legion clubrooms in the Municipal Memorial Building. Auxiliary headquarters will be in the Elks Clubrooms, while the 40 et 8 will share the post quarters with the Legion.

The snow-white stallion is 17 years old and is now owned by Dick Ryan, former cavalry lieutenant and rodeo producer. Ryan paid 1,000 yen, about $63, for the stallion back in 1945. He is still used for breeding purposes and now has 34 offspring in this country.

Census Takers Take To Canadian Wilds

By JAMES MONTAGNES
NEA Social Correspondent

TORONTO, Canada —(NEA)— By foot, car, plane and canoe, Canada's census takers took to the road June 1 for the decennial nosecounting. It's a big country and a big job, and the population survey will extend from the industrial south to the wilderness 1000 miles below the North Pole.

This is the ninth Canadian census, with the first one made in 1871. A big boost in population is expected to be discovered. Estimates place the figure at 14,000,000, an increase from the 11,500,000, officially noted in 1941

Most of the increase is the result of immigration since the war's end. There's a smattering of war brides brought back by Canadian soldiers and hundreds of thousands of DPs and war orphans settled in Canada.

Other changes in Canada's population pattern are expected to be unearthed by the census. The big drift from farm to city, already apparent in 1941, has been speeded up. It is possible this year's survey will show that more than 60 per cent of Canadians live in cities and towns.

* * *

In the urban areas of southern Ontario and Quebec, where 8,500,000 people lived according to 1941's figures, the census takers won't have too much trouble. But the vast reaches of the north are a nightmare for the people who are going to do the work

For hundreds of miles, it is possible to travel by road and see no house, no village, no people. Then there may be an isolated lumbering camp or trapper's shack. Then more miles of concentrated nothing. At eight cents a head —the census taker's fee—it is a poor hunting ground. But with accuracy at stake, every outpost must be counted.

Much of Canada is entirely without roads. Here the census taker will have to go by canoe, along the rivers dotted with rapids, to reach the camps where Indians and whites scratch a living from the bush. Other places, the census taker will take to the air until he spots an isolated settlement or camp, then set down on a nearby lake and hike to the spot.

* * *

The annual supply steamers, that service distant outposts of the far north, will carry census takers this summer. Their job will be to count the Indians, Eskimos and the few whites who live in the Northwest Territories, on the Arctic islands north of the Arctic Circle

The Canadian Mounties will take along census blanks this summer, too, as they visit trading posts and Eskimo camps.

By all these means, Canadian census officials think they'll get as nearly-complete coverage as can be obtained. They hope that almost every Canadian will get to answer the vital 29 questions that comprise the form

That's the personal questionnaire, which includes everything from name to yearly earnings. There are questions on what language each person speaks, their ancestry, war service, schooling, job, religion. There'll be a special census of the blind and deaf.

Besides that, every fifth house will be surveyed for a special housing census, to show the type of house, furnishings, appliances and conveniences. There are also special censuses on commercial fishermen, livestock, greenhouses, agriculture, irrigation and service businesses.

Planes To Spray Jack Pine Worms

Will Hit Infested Rapid River Area

A 10-day battle against the destructive spruce bud worm will open tomorrow in the Rapid River area with two airplanes scheduled to begin laying a death-dealing solution of DDT over the area.

The United States Forest Service project will be under the supervision of Ranger James Jay of Rapid River. Forest Service crews will fill and mix solutions and guide the planes on their distribution runs over some 4,000 acres infested with the worms.

Endangered are many acres of valuable jack pine plantations which have been attacked by the spruce bud worms. The area has been infested with the worms for several years and is in bad shape this year.

Eat New Growth

The worm operates on new growth, eating this season's buds in the young jack pine stands. If allowed to feed unmolested the worms will stunt and deform the growths and the trees will eventually be killed.

Two bi-wing planes of the Air Agriculturists of Carrolville, Wis. will begin flying low level missions against the worms tomorrow morning if the weather permits.

Each plane carries 80 gallons of DDT in a 12 percent mixture which is distributed at the rate of one gallon per acre. Deisel fuel is used as a carrier agent.

Fly At 50 Feet

The planes swoop over the treetops at about 50 feet and spray a path 150 feet wide. The planes are guided on each run by gas-filled balloons set up by Forest Service crewmen on the ground.

Excessive wind or rainy weather makes the spraying impossible and the 10-day estimate of the project hinges directly on weather conditions.

A similar spraying project, on a small trial scale, was conducted last year and was reported very successful in destroying the worms. Birds and other wild life are not harmed by the solution.

Area Meeting May Clarify Confusion In Student Draft

FROM the selective service area meeting here Thursday night, June 21, should come some clarification of the draft situation as it applies to college students. Col. G. B. Arnold, state director, and Lt. Col. A. A. Holmes, deputy director, will attend the meeting and will confer with draft board members and clerks from Dickinson, Iron, Menominee and Delta counties.

The college students are now taking examinations designed to establish eligibility for deferments for further college training. Many draft boards are wholly unsympathetic to the college deferment plan and the new draft law empowers the local board to make the decision in each case.

A degree of unity among the various local boards, however, is essential in the interests of fairness. Presumably the state selective service officials, acting on directives from the national headquarters, will seek to establish a basis for uniformity so that college students in one county will not be drafted en masse whil ecollege students of another county will be deferred en masse.

There also must be some reasonable relationship between the deferment standards of college students as compared with the deferment standards o fmen of draft age who are not college students.

U. S. Leaders Must Set Example For Europe

MORE than a few able American observers complain sadly from time to time about the dearth of good political leadership in this country.

Even the most ardent backers of our present leaders feel that weakness and indecision and confusion play too great a role in our affairs these critical days. They lament the lack of men who can not only act decisively, but explain their policies well so that the nation may understand where it is going and have faith that the course is right.

France has suffered a continuing crisis of leadership almost since the end of World War II. Time after time, the delicacy of French political alignments has been given as the excuse for not doing something that needed to be done. Of all those who have held the post of premier since 1945, only Rene Pleven, now out of power, showed the forceful traits of a real leader.

In Britain, whatever one may think of its goals, the Labor party for several years did indeed provide a driving leadership. But today, a bare six years since its ascent to power, the party is running out of steam. The doughty Ernest Bevin is dead. Sir Stafford Cripps, acclaimed as an expert on finance, is ill and in retirement. Prime Minister Clement Attlee is still hanging grimly onto the reins, but growing steadily wearier.

At least two U. S. journalists reporting on the British scene find the government gripped by virtual paralysis. One said he believes Attlee and his colleagues actually are sick of governing and would be glad to relinquish power to the Conservatives when and if it can be gracefully done.

The fiery Aneurin Bevan, who some predict will one day be prime minister, has still not lost his zest. But his following among left-wing socialists is not huge. There is no sign of his being able to take command of the Labor party and turn it his way.

It seems fair to say the punch has gone out of British socialism. A lot was accomplished in the welfare field and in nationalization of industry up to now. But it has produced no miracle of universal happiness and well-being. Britain still is heavily beset by problems, just like every other nation.

Throughout free Europe there is a poverty of leadership, a shortage of men with the talent for governing. And even among those who do come forward, few have the stomach for governing in the tense atmosphere of permanent crisis that pervades the world today. They quickly weary of the strain and wish to be free of the leader's tantalizing dilemmas.

World War II killed off or exhausted much of Europe's potential leadership. What is left has little heart for the job. The Russian threat, compelling heavy rearmament, makes the burden seem mountainous and oppressive.

In this dreary situation, the United States is the one real hope. It is still young, economically sound, untouched by the ravages of war, and optimistic. It has a reservoir of leadership that unfortunately is not yet being drawn into political life as it ought. There is a need for able, courageous young men to reach out for the reins.

But the vigor and spirit are here. More than ever in our history we need to show what we can do. Unless we can set an example of clear, forceful action, the tired, disillusioned men of Europe are not likely to recover their own capacity and zest for leadership.

Argentine Sailor Man Without A Country

HAVE you heard about the Argentine sailor who was robbed of his passport in a French port?

It only took him 14 months to regain status as a man with a country. And in that spell he was buffeted all over Europe, tossed from one nation to another like a hand grenade with the pin out. Finally some Americans in Germany took interest in his case, and he managed to get a birth certificate from his native Switzerland.

Great world we live in, isn't it?

Dope Racketeers On Increase In U. S.

REPORTS of dope addiction from major cities of the United States show conclusively that the dope business is increasing, reaching even into the high schools. New York police report that at least 6,000 school-age children are dope addicts in that city alone.

Saturday Deputy District Attorney Joseph Tierney of Milwaukee reported that dope addiction has reached serious proportions in Milwaukee and urged all parents to be on the alert. An increase in arrests for narcotic offenses of 2,100% in six years has been reported in Milwaukee. Over half of the persons arrested in Milwaukee on dope charges in the last two years were under the age of 26 years and only 20% of the total were "old timers." This means that four out of five are comparatively recent victims of the dope racket.

Fortunately, dope addiction has not yet become a problem of consequence in most of the small communities. The dope peddlers have concentrated their activities in the metropolitan centers because the potential market is greater and there is better opportunity to escape detection.

For that we can be extremely grateful but no less alert to the danger. We cannot take immunity for granted in view of what is happening today elsewhere in the nation.

For that we can be extremely grateful but o less alert to the danger. We cannot take immunity for granted in view of what is happening today elsewhere in the nation.

But Is 'Shelter' The Right Word?

THE New York City civil defense officials are considering designation of certain crosstown subway tunnels as A-bomb shelters.

It's easy to see why the choice was made. The tunnels have already met the biggest test: morning and evening they survive a great log-jam of humanity shuttling back and forth across Manhattan.

Where else could you find a shelter that has proved itself in two "drills" a day for several decades.

BACK SEAT COURTESY
(Green Bay Press-Gazette)

It is prety well agreed among the people who strive to prevent highway accidents that courtesy on the part of the driver is one of the most important preventatives known. There is a good deal, of course, in knowing the laws and in rigid training in obeying every rule of the road and every warning sign or signal. But the spirit of the things, and the attitude which makes it possible to obey warning signs, and to give way to the fellow who is in a hurry—that is courtesy and it makes for safety.

The safety division of the motor vehicle department offers some new rules on motoring courtesy which are for the passenger. It seems some accidents are caused by personality clashes within the car, which could be avoided or at least postponed until the car is safely parked.

Some of the rules for passengers are:

"Don't obstruct the driver's vision—it's against the law.

"Don't distract the driver or argue with him to the point of making him angry.

"Assume responsibility for children in the car, don't permit them to annoy the driver.

"Don't be a back seat driver—unless you have something worthwhile to suggest in a courteous manner. Let the driver do the driving.

"Don't smoke, or sleep in such a manner as to annoy or embarrass the driver."

There is such a thing as teamwork for the passenger and the driver, and it can make for both pleasant and safe travel.

The Fixers

By Gordon Martin

MARTIN

There's a smarty in our midst who thinks he's really quite a shot, and who brags that it's impossible to put him on the spot. He declares that all our many laws were made for other folks, and of how he breaks them every day, he very often jokes. He's a self-appointed fixer who can beat most any rap, and too long it is we've had the fellow sitting in our lap.

He may be a sporting racketeer who thrives on many crimes, as he seperates the people from their dollars and their dimes. And he goes his patch of violence and pays his way with bribes, while the stupid boobs who live by laws are targets of his jibes. But it isn't just the hoodlum who delights in getting by, for there's damage done aplenty by the ordinary guy.

Take the man who boasts, before his son, of shady politics, and who laughs at traffic tickets which he thinks it's smart to fix. He's a braggart who has surely warped the thinking of a boy, whose respect for rights of others it is easy to destroy. He is really not much better than the big shot racketeer, and they both are public enemies who shouldn't happen here

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Senate Democratic leaders called an emergency off-the-record huddle the other day to decide how to meet Senator McCarthy's 60,000-word attack on Secretary of Defense Marshall.

Minnesota's fiery Sen. Hubert Humphrey suggested a mass walkout when McCarthy got up to speak. Pointing out how Hitler started his rise to power by tearing down the heroes of the German republic. Humphrey snorted his disgust at McCarthy's tactics.

"There are many ways to destroy people—sometimes by outright murder, sometimes through the process of attrition," declared Humphrey. "I mean character assassination, misrepresentation and quoting out of context. This is the most inhumane way."

The senator from Minnesota suggested that the Democrats had only two alternatives—"Either stand up and fight back which is almost impossible to do when McCarthy controls the floor, or remove ourselves from the scene of unsavory conduct."

Humphrey said he preferred a mass walkout.

However, Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas favored sending in a conservative Southern Democrat to hit back at McCarthy. Anyone else who tried it would be branded as a Communist by McCarthy, Johnson observed. He suggested George of Georgia or Byrd of Virginia, since Marshall lives in Virginia and Byrd made the original motion in favor of Marshall's nomination.

However, McMahon of Connecticut warned that it was an "impossibility trying to debate with McCarthy, because you never can pin him to the facts of the issue."

He added that Marshall had stature enough to withstand the McCarthy blast and suggested that the McCarthyites had lost the MacArthur fight, and McCarthy's attack on Marshall was "a deliberate attempt to gain the offensive again. The only way they can make the MacArthur position stands up is to undermine the character of the administration witnesses.

G. I. JUSTICE

The G. I., who is supposed to get the best of everything when it comes to guns, ammunition and food, has never got top military justice. Up until recently the courts-martial and military justice systems of the army services have been as out of date as horse-drawn artillery.

And, thanks to wise-cracking Gen. Harry Vaughan and politics-playing in the justice department, it looks like a reform of military justice might be side-tracked. For Vaughan and Attorney General McGrath have just appointed two of their henchmen as judges on the important new military court of appeals.

This new military court came as a result of the scandals of World War II. During the war it became obvious that army justice was as out of date as the cavalry, and thanks to the prodding of a small group of civilian lawyers, headed by Richard H. Wels of New York, Congress passed an excellent new "uniform code of military justice."

The supreme court for this new code is the military court of appeals, and last fall Judge Bob Patterson, former secretary of war, came to Washington and urged General Marshall not to appoint political hacks to this key court. Marshall concurred and it was arranged that the new military judges should be selected from a list of candidates nominated by the American Bar association.

Shortly after the Marshall-Patterson conference, however, it leaked out that a small triumvirate of White House cronies—General Vaughan, John Steelman and Donald Dawson—objected to the cooperation of the Bar association. The president, they believed, had to consider 1952 and the building up of his political fences.

Mr. Truman, however, did not agree with his cronies and personally requested that the American Bar association submit a list of judges, it considered qualified for the military court of appeals. At that time, incidentally, Attorney General McGrath said he wanted to have nothing to do with the appointments, that their selection was wholly up o the defense department.

Finally, an excellent list of judicial candidates was submitted to the defense department, including Professor Edmund M. Morgan of the Harvard law school, chief drafter of the new military code. But none of them was appointed.

Instead, the defense department hastily telephoned Paul Brosman of Louisiana, dean of the Tulane law school and a good man, the nserving as lieutenant colonel at Mitchell Field. He was told to resign his commission immediately. He did so—though, by executive order, no officer has been permitted to resign since the outbreak of the Korean war.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Lansing — Governor Van Wagoner declared today he has pruned between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 from the state budget adopted by the legislature for the ensuing biennium. The governor declined to disclose immediately, however, where cuts were imposed in what he said was an effort to balance the budget and provide more money for deficit ertirement.

Escanaba—The modesty of city firemen kept secret until yesterday the story of a rescue of three young children from a burning barn here last Sunday afternoon. Darlene Shedore, 4, Jimmy and Francis Champeau, aged 3 and 5, were trapped, almost overcome by smoke in the burning barn at the rear of the Shedore residence. A carelessly dropped match was the probable cause of the fire.

20 YEARS AGO

Escanaba — Dr. Birger E. Johnson has resumed his chiropractic practice from which he retired about a year ago.

Manistique — John Carlson was again honored Friday evening when he was re-elected as president of the Golden Star lodge at the annual election of that organization held at the Oddfellows hall.

Gladstone — Retirement of Wisconsin avenue paving bonds to the amount of $3,200 was made last week by the city of Gladstone reducing the amount outstanding on this issue to $10,000

New Russian Divisions Mass On Yugoslav, Turkish Borders

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

MUNICH, Germany—(NEA)—While rumors of an early peace in Korea flood Western Europe, Russia is moving new troops into the satellite countries, according to Allied intelligence reports from behind the Iron Curtain.

Increased Soviet and satellite military activity close to the Yugoslav and Turkish borders was also reported by refugees from Hungary and Romania who recently reached Western Germany.

A full Russian infantry division took up positions early in May in the vicinity of the Hungarian town of Nagyatad, close to the Yugoslav frontier. This increases to four (a total of 60,000 men) the number of known Soviet divisions in Hungary. Two of them are armored.

At the same time, the defense of the whole Black Sea coast—from the Soviet frontier to the Turkish frontier—has recently been taken over by the Russian Army command, my informants said.

MOSCOW ON THE MOVE: Newschart highlights the military checker game Russia is playing with her troops in satellite countries.

• • •

Four Soviet divisions—two armored—are also known to be stationed in Romania—though there may actually be more. The movement of Red Army troops into Romania and from there into Hungary and Bulgaria (close to the Yugoslav and Greek-Turkish frontiers) has been continuous in the past weeks.

Red Army engineers have constructed a pontoon bridge across the Danube to connect the Romanian and Bulgarian shores.

The Russians are crossing the Romanian border at Galatzi, Constanza and Stefanesti on the Prut. Troop movements are carried out at night and under the greatest secrecy. The Constanza-Bucharest road—generally used for the transport of troops and arms—has recently been closed to civilian traffic, ostensibly for repairs.

The Red Army has established a chain of ammunition dumps extending from Romanian Bessarabia to the Bulgarian airfield of Bozhurishte. The Romanian towns of Timisoara and Arad and its nearby airfield—one of the largest in Southern Europe—are teeming with Russian troops.

• • •

The Yugoslav-Romanian border is guarded by Romanian troops. But 20 kilometers behind the border there is a strong concentration of Soviet mechanized units.

Soviet Marshal Ivan S. Koniev, one of the Kremlin's outstanding tank experts, is reportedly in command of the Soviet troops in the satellite countries.

Knowledge of Moscow's latest aggressive moves probably prompted the recent statement by Col. Gen. Ivan Gosnjak, Yugoslav Defense Minister, that Bulgaria, Romania and Hungary were intensifying war preparations near the Yugoslav border.

This too, is believed to be behind Washington's urgent request that Turkey and Greece be admitted to membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Admission of these two Mediterranean and Balkan countries would also pave the way for the inclusion of Yugoslavia.

No Scales Exist By Which Korea's Cost Can Be Weighed

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—How much has the Korean war cost?

Lyle S. Garlock, acting assistant secretary and comptroller of the Department of Defense, says it's impossible to tell, and he should know.

How do you measure the cost of the 70,000 American casualties, for instance? Or how do you estimate the life and property damage in Korea? Questions like these indicate the imponderables in trying to make any calculations.

There is only one rough figure that might be used on the cost of the first year's war in Korea. In the government's fiscal year ending June 30, 1950, Department of Defense spent 13½ billion dollars. For the year ending June 30, 1951, expenditures will be about 19½ billion.

Make a simple subtraction and the answer comes out six billion dollars for the first year, if you charge all the increased defense effort to the Korean war.

As for making any specific accounting on what it takes to run the Korean campaign, however, Defense officials say it can't be done. Books can't be kept on war the way they are in business.

There were a lot of World War II type fighter planes in the Pacific theater when war broke out. They were rapidly becoming obsolete as they were to be replaced by jets. Air Force was about to write off the cost of the old jobs and scrap them. But they saved the day in the early Korean fighting. So are the costs of the planes shot down in Korea to be charged off at zero—their scrap value—or at the full original price?

Slow Boat To Korea

It takes an estimated 210 days for supplies to flow through the pipeline from the United States to the Korean battle front. In between are U. S. warehouse stocks, reserves kept at ports of embarkation on the Pacific coast, goods in transit by slow freighter, supplies at ports of debarkation and dumps behind the lines. Are the supplies to be charged off as a war cost when they enter the pipeline, or only when they are expended at the front?

Defense officials know how many tons of supplies they have shipped to the Korean front, but beyond that they lose count. They know what pay and subsistence comes to for the six U. S. Army and one Marine divisions, the Air Force and Navy personnel in the Pacific theater. This is more than a third of present U. S. Army combat strength, though much less that fraction for Navy and Air.

But this is only a beginning of the outlay. There are ten South Korean divisions which are wholly equipped and maintained by U. S. supplies. British Commonwealth, Turkish, Greek, French, Thai and other United Nations contingents also draw most of their supplies from the U. S. pipeline. This aid is furnished on a reimbursable basis, however, and it's the job of the State Department to collect for whatever is furnished.

All these are complicating factors to make accounting next to impossible. And a country doesn't go to war on a basis of what it can afford, anyway.

For next year, the Department of Defense budget requested by President Truman totals $60 billion. Actual expenses will be about $40 billion, or double the present year's rate. By comparison, the 1942 budget was $94 billion and expenditures were $23 billion.

Stop-gap Budget

This 1952 budget is terribly late in being submitted to the Congress. Appropriations Committee hearings beginning this week can't possibly be concluded and the bill passed by Congress before the fiscal year begins on July 1. Some kind of stop-gap legislation will have to be passed to give the armed forces spending money till the bill is finally approved and signed by the President.

Reason for the delay is that the Defense budget had to be completely recalculated in December. This was after the Chinese Communists entered the Korean war. It created a new world situation which made all past military estimates obsolete.

A team of some 45 Defense Department fiscal experts worked double time for two months, whipping the new budget in shape for submission to Congress on May 1. It had no more than been completed when President Truman called for a new review to cut back expenditures where procurement was proceeding too rapidly.

What they are trying to stop are cases like the one uncovered by Rep. John Taber in which 85 million coffee bags had been ordered for immediate delivery. It was enough to last for years.

How much Congress will be able to cut from the Defense budget is anybody's guess. Senator Taft has talked of a $35 billion U. S. Defense budget, for a three-million-man armed force, instead of three-and-a-half million.

Assuming that the war does not spread beyond Korea, Department of Defense estimates that the 1953 military budget will be under $60 billion, though spending will be over next year's $40 billion. The leveling off period should begin in 1954.

No Traffic Deaths For 50 Years In Hobart

By ALVENA ADAMS
NEA Special Correspondent

HOBART, Okla.— (NEA) — In this age of heavy traffic and mounting highway deaths, the town of Hobart, Okla., holds a unique record. It has never had a traffic death since its incorporation in 1901, a 50-year distinction that National Safety Council says no other American city of more than 5000 can equal.

But how Hobart has avoided a traffic death for 50 years is a puzzle, even in Hobart. There are two schools of thought.

Both admit that one of the biggest factors is that Hobart has tough traffic laws and tough enforcement. One group says that's the big reason for the absence of fatalities—that plus a few other factors like wide streets, safe-drivng courses and safety-conscious citizens.

But there are those who say the city's remarkable record is the result of pure and simple luck.

Bruce Wright, an insurance agent and real estate man, sides with the last viewpoint. "We have as many reckless drivers here as in any other town," says Wright.

But City Marshal Roy Elkins believes that his strict enforcement of existing laws has a lot to do with the record. He's firm in making drivers observe the six stop signs placed at the busiest intersections.

"At first," he says, "I gave the fellows a chance. But that time is past. We're cracking down on them now."

• • •

The "crack - downs" are given newspaper publicity, too; that's part of Elkins' campaign to warn other drivers that the law means what it says.

The width of the streets—Main Street is about 46 feet wide and even residential streets average 36 feet—is also a contributing factor to the safety of Hobart. The citizens make a point of keeping shrubs at residential intersections trimmed low, so that drivers have clear vision in all directions.

Children in grade school are taught traffic rules. Bicyclists have to obey the laws, too. They seem to like the idea, and even give the same hand-signals motorists use when they make turns or stop.

• • •

A high school driving class, in operation for several years, is another cause of the city's safety record. Students learn the correct way to drive in heavy traffic, both day and night. learn how to park parallel and at right angles, and become familiar with all phases of traffic problems.

Hobart, through Country Judge Clarence W. Hunter, is tough on drunken drivers. Fines are heavy and second offenders are grounded for keeps.

"I'm not going to fool with them," says Hunter. "To me, the drunk driver is as much a crimal as a murderer—in fact, he has the potentialities of a murderer, and too often becomes one when he gets behind the wheel."

But despite all the precautions and laws and police, there are still many around who feel, like Wright, that it takes a good portion of luck to make the record stand up.

We Americans make the big sacrifices without whimper. But we cry over the little ones out of all proportion to their hurt.—Eric A. Johnston, economic stabilizer.

RIGHT ON TIME—The train may be late, but the engineer's watch is always right on time. For railroad men are among the most time-conscious individuals an earth. They wear out their watch pockets faster than any other parts of their uniforms.

Here in Escanaba, one of the Upper Peninsula's principal railroad centers, you become conscious of time simply by association with railroad men. In the Peninsula Division offices of the Chicago & North Western, for example, you will find clocks in all the rooms. Some of them may be old, but they are accurate.

It is the accuracy in time-keeping that is most important—so important there are even federal regulations governing the timepieces of the individual railroad men.

• • •

WITHOUT PROMPTING—The concern is not so much identification of the men who make the wheels go around on the shining rails, but of his watch.

Under federal regulations, no conductor or engineman can leave a division point until he has filled out a government form which carries space for his name, the make of his watch, its serial number—and how many seconds deviation it shows from standard time.

The boys on the rails do not need any prompting from the government to keep one eye on the clock or watch.

Time still looms large on the railroad horizon despite the fact that safety measures and mechanical and electrical devices have eliminated much of the old-time dependence on the individual in the handling of trains.

A railroad man always purchases the best watch he can afford and maintains it in the best possible repair to assure the maximum accuracy.

• • •

TIME SERVICE—The time and human elements are still very important on the hundreds of thousands of miles of railway line in the United States.

So important is it that the C&NW regards watch accuracy with such respect it, like other railroads, maintains a time service operating department and sends frequently revised rules governing the care and inspection of watches to all concerned.

The chief of watch inspectors for the C&NW National Railway Time Service company is located at Chicago, with local watch inspectors located at Escanaba and other communities on the line. These are established watch repairing centers, designated to service timepieces.

• • •

HIS OWN PROPERTY — Regulations concerning the kind, care and servicing of railroad men's watches are laid down and enforced by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

A railroader's watch is his own property and he must pay for its upkeep. It must conform to a set rule as to type, design and precision.

The watch must be registered and accompanied at all times by a registration card; must not vary from absolute accuracy by more than 30 seconds a week; must be checked by a local inspector at least once every two years; and must be compared daily with a standard clock or with the watch of another employe who has made such a comparison recently.

Regulations prescribe even the length of the hands on the watch. Luminous, gold, or fancy hands are taboo.

A railroader's watch must be marked with heavy black Arabic numerals, and must be fitted with a crystal which is neither cracked, chipped nor badly scratched.

• • •

BEFORE THE RUN — Before a train leaves a division point, the conductor compares his watch with that of the engineman at the same time they compare orders. The engineman also compares his watch with the fireman, and the conductor checks time with the brakeman and any other members of the crew.

Trainmasters, superintendents, and road foremen of engines are the railroad's "time detectives," who can and do examine watches at will.

Demerits may be imposed if any of the many regulations governing the ownership and care of a timepiece has not been complied with.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby Jr.

PUNCTUATION MADE EASY
The Comma

Yesterday's column had space for only a few rules for the proper use of the comma. Today will complete our discussion of that punctuation mark.

Use a comma to separate parts of (a) an address, (b) dates, and (c) names of places:

(a) 634 University avenue, Grandville 3, Ohio, U. S. A.

(b) The check was dated August 1, 1950.

(c) We shall drive to Milwaukee, Wisconsin, by way of St.: Louis, Missouri, and Peoria, Illinois.

In a series of three or more, commas are necessary to make the meaning clear.

Let us say that a man buys four neckties and we describe them thus: blue, green, black and yellow ties. Without the comma before "and" the statement actually describes three ties, not four, and the last mentioned is black and yellow.

Note how the comma before "and" clarifies the meaning: blue, green, black, and yellow ties. We know that there are four ties, and that each is of a separate color.

If a pause is not essential, do not use a comma: Wrong: "He locked the door, and went to bed." Right: He locked the door and went to bed. Wrong: "His legs were long, and thin." Right: His legs were long and thin.

Direct quotations, as, "he said, he declared," are set off by commas:

"If the law supposes that," said Mr. Bumble, "the law is a ass, a idiot."

Commas are used to separate adjectives (describing words), as: Her hair was long, silky, and fragrant. The dark, silent, mysterious cavern opened before their eyes.

Big Pay Jobs Get No Takers

Security Most Important Now

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK—The most damning condemnation of the destruction of our old values that I have run into lately rests in the experience of an advertising executive I know. This fellow, who works for a major outfit, argued the sum of $75,000 from his budgeters, said dough to be used to hire three salesmen.

The man wanted top-grade guys, which meant that he went shopping among the opposition. He waved a fat $25,000 salary under the noses of some first-class fellows he knew. None was making more than $15,000 a year. And he got no takers.

The answers they gave him were the same: They did not feel that a raise of $10,000 a year justified risking their established security with a new firm. They were unwilling to gamble, they said, because their new net income after taxes would not be enuogh more to offset the risk they would face in switching jobs. Here you have the practically unparalleled example of a man with both bold hands full of riches, who is unable to find takers.

500 Bucks A Week

There was a time when an annual salary of 25 grand represented the wildest dreams of ordinary avarice. Twenty-five thousand clams put you in the yacht-and-town-house class. Two bits' worth of thousands averages out to 500 bucks a week, and for that kind of scratch you could wear mink overalls. Even a few years of that salary would allow a man to store up enough security to keep him comfortable while he lived.

But in the case of the frustrated executive you have several men turning down $10,000 raises because, as the most common cliche of our time runs, "You can't keep it." This amounts to depriving money of its worth, and the end result is a destruction of iniative, a crippling of ambition. You eventually wind up with lethargy, the translation of which says let George do it. Letting George do it works two ways—either eventual Communism or Fascism, which means that in any case the control of his personal existence is out of the hands of the individual.

A man just back from the Argentine tells me simply how Peron clinched his control. He merely encouraged collectivism, to such point that when he pulled the drawstrings at the top he had all the trade unions in the bottom of the sack. He then was able to use them as a blackjack, to where a dictatorship as fine as Mussolini's is now in operation, with Juan and Evita squatting at the top.

Afraid To Gamble

Whatever we have in this land was not founded on a desire for static security. The original settlers took a great gamble when they took off from England. A great many rugged men and women wound up porcupined with arrows in order that Hollywood and Vine might become possible.

Many of our mighty moguls of industry today will speak with an accent that is not local to the scent. The vast fortunes that built the know-how that let us win wars were mainly built on gambling, and I don't mean crap shooting. The development of new industries rests on the availablity of risk capital. Our national health rests on a man's willingness to take a chance.

I do not understand this sudden apathy, this non-craving for adventure, which seems suddenly to have afflicted us. The young men crave security; they ask about retirement age before they ask about the possibility for advancement. Men offered increases of $200 a week refuse them because they are not willing to take a chance. I remember I changed three sets of jobs, once, for a cut of two bucks on one and a raise of three bucks on the other, merely because the prospects seemed brighter at the time.

Maybe we are watering down our stock as we water down our currency. But when a man loses interest in making money,, you have just deprived him of his power. And that goes for a nation, too.

THOSE IN UNIFORM

WITH THE 1ST CAVALRY DIVISION, U. S. ARMY, in Korea—(Delayed)—Members of the 82nd Field Artillery Battalion—one of them an Escanaba, Mich., soldier—fire the 1st Cavalry Division's biggest guns and have earned an enviable reputation among UN forces in Korea.

The Escanaba artilleryman is Private First Class William LaPalm, son of Alphonse LaPalm, Route 1, Escanaba.

He serves with a battalion, which is equipped with huge 155-millimeter howitzers, one of the most feared of all weapons by the Communists in Korea.

Pfc. LaPalm's unit began its long list of impressive accomplishments early in the war when it was one of the first units rushed forward to cover the withdrawal of friendly troops from beleagered Yongdong.

Sgt. Way In Korea

WITH THE 7TH INF. DIV., U. S. ARMY, In Korea — Sergeant Jack T. Way, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Way, Wells, Mich., a member of the Seventh Division Artillery, helped stem the Communist spring offensive in Korea.

Way's unit recently sent its 335,000 round of the Korean campaign blasting into the enemy. In eight months of Korean action his unit made two amphibious landings, gained the Manchurian border, and fought on both coasts of the Korean peninsula.

A veteran of six years service, Sergeant Way joined the 7th Division in September 1949. He graduated from Escanaba senior high school before entering the Army.

Famed Negro Singer, Barred From Hotels, Cancels Atlanta, Ga.

ATLANTA— (AP) —The three leading white hotels here have refused accommodations to Josephine Baker, so the famous Negro singer has cancelled an appearance here.

Miss Baker was scheduled to appear at a benefit performance June 30 during the annual convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The cancellation was announced through the NAACP. Miss Baker is the wife of a Frenchman and long has been celebrated in Europe as a top night club entertainer.

Under Georgia's segregation laws any white hotel which granted Miss Baker living quarters would be liable to revocation of its inkeeper's license.

The NAACP convention is scheduled June 26-July 2 and 800 to 1,000 delegates, mostly Negro, are expected to attend.

Michigan College Graduates Have Bigger Than Average Families

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Michigan college graduates have more children than the average of college alumni, a study group indicated.

The report came from the population reference bureau, a non-profit organization here which has a motto "Don't let your A.B. mean 'abolish babies.' "

It made a study of the 1926 and 1941 graduates of five Michigan colleges — Kalamazoo, Hope, Adrian, Michigan Tech and Emmanuel Missionary — and the number of children those graduates had.

In all except two instances, the Michigan graduates were well above the national average for the number of children of college-trained parents.

Class of '41 Fertile

As a part of the nationwide study, the bureau noted that the long-time tradition of small families for college graduates may be on its way out.

Reports from 18,000 alumni of the class of 1941, it said, indicate that they already have 1.42 children for each male graduate, and 1.19 for each woman graduate.

This led the researchers to dub the class "Fertile '41." Men have 39 per cent more children than their fellows of the class of 1936, and women have 25 per cent more.

By comparison, the classes of 1926—with their families virtually complete—show only 1.84 children for each man and 1.18 for each woman.

Hope Woman First

"It is most desirable that the increase in the birth rate of intelligent people continue," the bureau said.

It recommended "national economic, social and educational programs which will help to equalize birth rates among education groups in this and other countries."

Top honors for 1941 men graduates of the five Michigan institutions studied by the bureau went to Emmanuel Missionary of Berrien Springs, with 1.72 children per graduate.

Kalamazoo alumni of that year had 1.63 children each; Hope graduates, 1.62; and Michigan Tech, 1.54. The national average was 1.42, and highest in the nation was Marion College, Ind., with 2.36 children per male graduate.

Among the women who graduated in 1941, Hope College alumnae took first place, with an average of 1.68 babies each. They ranked eighth in the nation among the 140 classes studied. The national average was 1.19 children.

Michigan Tech High

Adrian College women who graduated in 1941 had an average of 1.48 children and Kalamazoo alumnae, 1.22.

The 1926 male graduates of Hope College were tops in the state with an average of 2.21 children each. Kalamazoo college grads had 2.14 each, and Michigan Tech men, 2.05 each. The national average for men of the class of '26 was 1.84.

The women who graduated in 1926, on the national average, had an average of 1.18 children each. But Adrian college women of that year had 1.544 children each, and Kalamazoo women, 1.13. The two schools falling below the national average were Emmanuel Missionary, with 0.73, and Hope, 0.75.

Los Angeles Twins Start Life With Bump

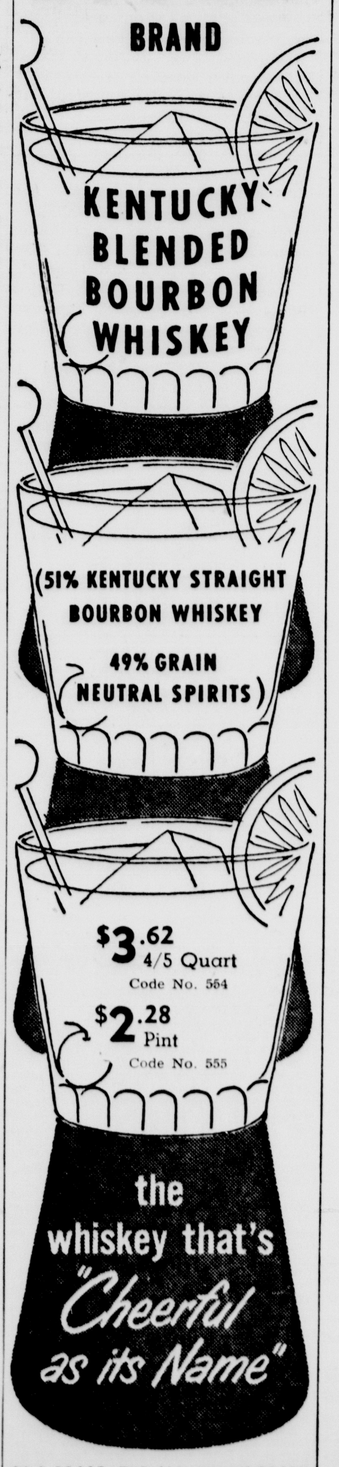

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Mrs. Wanda Bidwell's twins are doing fine although they got a bumpy start in life.

The expectant mother, 21, had her trip to the hospital interrupted when the auto in which she was riding turned completely over in a collision. Injuries to the mother were slight and the twins, five and a half pounds and four pounds, were born a short time later—at the hospital.

Mrs. Rajala, Rock, Dies

Early Day Resident Was 78 Years Old

Mrs. Edla R. Rajala, 78, of Rock, Mich., died at 11:55 p. m. Monday. Mrs. Rajala was born April 21, 1873 in Teuva, Finland, and had been a resident of Rock the past 40 years, moving there from Ishpeming

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Gust (Ellen) Alto, Mrs. Emil (Elsie) Koski, and Mrs. Ethel Englund of Rock, five sons, George and Sylvester of Detroit; Toivo of Saline, Mich., and Uno and Vernie of Rock.

Mrs. Rajala was a member of the Finnish Lutheran church of Rock. Her husband preceded her in death. Dec. 6, 1944.

Friends may call at the Anderson funeral home beginning Thursday afternoon at 2, and the body will be removed to the Finnish Lutheran church at Rock at noon Friday. Funeral services will be held at 1:30 Friday with Rev. Amos Marin of Gwinn officiating. Burial will be in the Rock cemetery.

Bathhouses Swept By Midnight Fire Ot Great Salt Lake

SALT LAKE CITY — (AP) — A midnight fire swept through the bathhouses at Saltair amusement park on the shores of Great Salt Lake and for a time early today threatened the entire sprawling resort.

There were no injuries. Extent of the loss was not estimated immediately.

The blaze was discovered shortly after midnight by a watchman. He said flames shot out of the boiler room, located near the bathhouses.

Manager William Armstrong said "it looks as if we've lost the boiler room, the laundry, hot house, and several rows of bathhouses."

The fire was reported under control at 2 a. m. (MST). Scores of youngsters reportedly looted some of the concessions and state police joined with sheriff's deputies in maintaining order.

Research Chemist For Navy Resigns, Denies Spy Hookup

WASHINGTON—(AP)— Dr. Stephen Brunauer, suspended chief research chemist in the navy's weapons development section, has resigned in the face of a Senator's charge that he was "one of the figures in the atomic spy ring."

After the navy announced his resignation yesterday, Brunauer said, "past mistakes" of 25 years ago cost him his job although "I have been a strong anti-communist for 18 years." He said he resigned to avoid being "a source of embarrassment" to the navy.

The 48-year-old Hungarian born scientist declared himself "intensely loyal to the United States." He said he "never committed or contemplated an act of disloyalty to my country or its armed services."

Women Like Picket Job At Zinc Mines Of Silver City, N. M.

SILVER CITY, N. M.—(AP) — Wives and mothers of striking zinc miners at Hanover seem to be enjoying their picket line duty.

"It's just like a picnic," smiled one. Nevertheless, said a companion, "we intend to hold fast."

Charges of unlawful assembly against 45 of the women did not slow down the feminine pickets. But in contrast to earlier tension, the situation yesterday was reported quiet.

No charges were brought against 17 children picked up while picketing with their mothers. Complained one 15 year old girl:

"I told them they could go ahead and charge me if they wanted to. I fought the cops just as hard as any of the others. Why, I bit one of 'em and I spit in another one's eye."

She was back in the picket line yesterday.

Hedy Lamar Weds, Has $1,000,000 Sale

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Hedy Lamarr, married last week to Ted Stauffer, wealthy Acapulco, Mexico, night club operator, is placing about $1,000,000 worth of jewelry, clothing, household furnishings and paintings on auction.

Auctioneer Arthur B Goode, who will conduct the sale next Monday, said the items include $200,000 in jewelry, 480 dresses, 75 pairs of shoes, several mink coats and stoles, lingerie and nightgowns.

The actress' marriage to Stauffer was her fourth. Four wedding rings, incidentally, are among the articles to be auctioned, but Goode said one may be an heirloom.

Trustees Named For TB Board

Dr. Towey Of Powers Only Peninsula Man

MARQUETTE, Mich. — (AP) — Seven trustees were elected today to the Michigan Tuberculosis Association's board for three-year terms.

At the association's 43rd annual meeting being conducted here, members elected Judge Herman Dehnke, of Harrisville; Martin J. Lane, Benton Harbor; Dr. David Littlejohn, Detroit; Dr. M. B. Conover, Flint; Dr. James Doty, Lapeer; Dr. John W. Towey, Powers, and Louis H. Grettenberger, Grand Rapids.

Launching of the tuberculosis Christmas seal in America was described to the 300 persons attending the state gathering by Leigh Mitchell Hodges, of Pennsylvania, only living member of the four who founded the "Life-Saving Stamp" in 1907.

Hodges, dean of American columnists, told how Emily Bissel, voluntary Red Cross secretary, came to him with the idea of using Christmas seals to fight the dread disease. Several already had rejected the proposal of linking "Merry Christmas" with the deadliest of all diseases, and Hodges said he has "no more understanding today than I did then, why at that moment I should have seen, not small squares of perforated paper, but a flaming banner, something to be carried at the head of hosts of all sorts of people to make known the fact the world needed to know: That the 'white plague' could be prevented and cured."

He told the conference, which will be concluded tonight, that "you, yourselves, and millions of others throughout this land have made it the most miraculous piece of paper that ever came into existence.

"But tuberculosis," he cautioned, "will never be conquered until that death rate has been lowered to match smallpox, yellow fever and other diseases now practically wiped out."

Draft Calls For 42 Doctors In Michigan

LANSING — (AP) — Michigan's first draft call for doctors—for 41 instead of the contemplated 67—was issued today by the state selective service headquarters.

The doctors will be called July 26.

The call covers physicians who registered last Oct. 16, the so-called "priority one" doctors.

These are less than 50 years old, received special army or navy medical training during World War II, or were deferred from the draft to take medical training or who served less than 90 days in the military service.

Physicians who wait to be drafted, instead of volunteering, must go through basic training as privates and are denied a special $100 a month bonus granted physicians who volunteer.

Shippers Get Set For Long Maritime Tieup

NEW YORK — (AP) — American shippers and CIO seamen braced themselves today for a prolonged maritime tieup that has left scores of vessels idle in Atlantic and Gulf coast ports.

But on the west coast there was hope for a settlement today between shipowners and striking radiomen.

Only Korean war and essential European defense cargoes were moving in the stoppage that threatens to halt 650 American ships using 23 major ports.

Mail Piles Up

The NMU said in a telegram that it would look to the national shipping authority to decide what ships are essential.

Mail was piling up here, and the NMU suggested that it be sent by foreign vessels or coal freighters, which are not involved in the tieup.

Merchants were starting to route freight shipments via foreign-flag vessels.

Tourist passenger traffic, now nearing its peak season, was seriously affected. If the stoppage is prolonged, it appeared that crowded foreign liners would be unable to find space for those persons who booked passage on American ships.

More Pay Demanded

The NMU, which sets the pattern for the other maritime unions, is demanding a 40-hour week, a 25 per cent wage increase, paid vacations and elimination of so-called inequities.

NMU pay scales now range from $213.79 a month for messmen to $315.35 for boatswains. Engineers get from $378.66 to $696 for chiefs. Radiomen get a basic monthly wage of $352.13.

While radiomen picketed waterfront piers at some west coast ports, no picketing was reported at Atlantic and Gulf ports.

Willow Village Closing Opposed

Ypsilanti, Mich.—(AP)—Housing officials today sought to take advantage of a provision of the national housing act to prevent the closing of Willow village, a 3,000-family housing project.

Public Housing Administrator John T. Eagan has ordered Willow village administrators to stop filling vacancies by July 1, and on March 31, 1952, to issue notices to vacate.

The order, he said, comes under the terms of the national housing act of 1950, which requires the closing up of "temporary" wartime housing.

Village Housing Manager W. L. Funkhouser took exception to the order, however.

"This thing doesn't make sense now, with defense work and the need for housing increasing in this area," he said.

Veteran And Son, 6, Drown Near Houghton

HOUGHTON, Mich. — (AP) — A disabled war veteran and his motherless small son drowned in Lake Roland near here yesterday.

Roman Malinki, 31, veteran of World War II, and his son, Roman, Jr., 6, apparently fell from their fishing boat, Sheriff Fred Paulson said.

Malinski rented the boat. Not long after he and the boy went out on the lake cries for help were heard. Their empty boat was found.

The mother is dead.

Sheriff's men dragged the lake until 1 a. m. without finding the bodies.

Mayor Of Kingsford Fails In Move To Oust City Manager

KINGSFORD, Mich.—(AP)—An attempt by Mayor Alfred Campbell to remove James J. Cummings as city manager was defeated last night when the mayor's motion failed to obtain a majority vote of the city council and was withdrawn midway through the roll-call.

Campbell had charged Cummings with being "in politics up to his head" and of "working against me in the election." He also accused the manager of inefficiency.

Councilman Earl Sheveland charged the manager was not cooperative.

Seized Havana Paper Restored To Reds

HAVANA, Cuba—(AP)—The communist newspaper Hoy, closed and seized by the government last August, has been returned to its owners.

Anibal Escalante, communist representative in Congress and editor to the paper, said last night it would resume publication as soon as possible, but he added that it will cost the party about $80,000 in repairs. He said some of the paper's machines were rusted and others apparently had been damaged by clubs

Big Eye Of Palomar Reaches Into Space To Study Universe

By RENNIE TAYLOR

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Palomar's "big eye" has reached 2,000 million million million miles into space and found vast groups of runaway stars which further support the theory that the universe is exploding, a noted astronomer reported today.

This is described as the first significant work of the 200-inch Hale telescope in the area outside our Milky Way or Galaxy.

The achievement constitutes a long step toward determining the size and nature of the universe, the position of the earth in it, and whether there may be many more earths and solar systems similar to ours.

This was reported by Dr. Milton L. Humason (pronounced humm'-a-son) in a paper prepared for the Astronomical Society of the Pacific. Dr. Humason is secretary of the Mt. Wilson and Palomar observatories and an expert in starlight analysis.

Watches For Hours

In 1942 Dr. Humason calculated the runaway speed of star bodies 250 million light years away. The new work takes the measurement on out to 360 million light years, a distance increase of roughly 50 per cent.

To get the new data Dr. Humason had to sit for as long as six hours at a stretch in a fantastic looking cradle at the upper end above the observatory floor.

The objects he observed were whole clusters of Galaxies, so distant that even the big eye did not distinguish individual stars, or even single Galaxies.

A faint blob of light registering on a tiny film represented each galactic group. It produced a tiny picture of what might be taken to be a picket fence with some of the pickets missing.

Each picket represents light produced by the glow of some indentifiable chemical element in the hot, distant star group.

A spectroscopic photo of these same chemicals here on earth would produce a similar picture, but with one important difference. By comparison the pickets in the star group picture would all be shifted a little toward the side of the film which registers red light.

That meant the wave length of each kind of light from the star group was a little longer than it would be if it were coming from identical elements on earth. Its frequency was slowed, like the pitch of a horn on an automobile speeding away from the hearer.

To astronomers this indicates that the source of the starlight was moving away from the telescope, fast.

Light Is Yardstick

The speed of light is the yardstick which astronomers will use for measuring the distances of the outermost objects observable in space. But the red shift in starlight complicates things for them. They must check on star groups as far away as possible to see if their calculation of the speedup rate will hold all the way.

They also must determine, if possible, whether this red shift represents actual runaway movement or whether it is some as yet unknown phenomenon of nature.

Czechs Put AP Writer On Trial

LONDON — (AP)—Reports from Prague today said the Czech foreign ministry has informed the U. S. embassy that Associated Press correspondent William Oatis will be placed on trial within a few days.

Oatis, 37, was arrested April 20 on charges of hostile activities toward the Czechoslovak government.

Oatis' arrest did not become known until April 26, nearly 72 hours after his disappearance from his office and lodgings in Prague. He was last seen while preparing to keep an appointment. Three Czech agents seized him as he was putting his car in his garage.

A native of Marion, Ind., Oatis had gone to Prague last June as chief of the Associated Press bureau there.

At the time his arrest was announced, Frank Starzel, general manager of the Associated Press, said the AP knew of no basis for the charges against him.

Lost In Woods All Night; Hancock Boy, 3, Found By His Father

HANCOCK, Mich.—(AP)—Three-year-old James Tossava was found unharmed today after being lost in heavy woods overnight.

James wandered away from home with two dogs about 5 p. m. yesterday. He was found at 6:45 a. m. today by his father, who was among more than 200 who had combed the woods all night.

The boy was in excellent shape, except for mosquito bites on his face and arms.

He was approximately two miles from his home when found. The home is in the Hancock canal district six miles from here.

After James disappeared with the dogs, one of them later returned home, adding to fear that he might have met with mishap.

The area is heavily wooded and only about two miles from the waterfront.

Buried-Alive Game Costs life Of Boy

WINDSOR, Ont. — (AP) — The game of "buried alive" cost the life of 10-year-old Teddy Banda.

He was playing Monday with two companions near a trenching machine that was digging a sewer.

The boys would let earth falling from the machine conveyer belt partially cover them. Then they'd jump up, laughing.

The foreman on the project chased all three away. But Teddy returned by himself to play the game some more.

A bulldozer operator found his body later. Workmen said Teddy may have been knocked unconscious by a stone or chunk of earth, before being "buried alive."

GI's Home From Korea Tell Lions Of War Conditions

Two GI's home from Korea on the army's new rotation system were guest speakers at the meeting of the Escanaba Lions club Monday night.

They are Cpl. Sheridan Geo. Lachappelle and Cpl. Harold Robitaile, both of whom enlisted in the army three years ago.

They described war conditions inu Korea, reporting that the North Korean troops have been virtually cleaned out. The Chinese Communists are surrendering in large groups, they reported, but some of the Chinese Reds are fighting tenaciously to their deaths.

Family Of 4 Killed By Worried Father At Puyallup, Wash.

PUYALLUP, Wash. — (AP) — A service station attendant, disappointed over his inability to buy his own establishment, shot his wife and two daughters to death yesterday and then committed suicide.

Dead in the shooting were Glenn Taft, 41; his wife, Mary Ellen, about 40. and their daughters, Glenda Lee, 16, and Louise, 18.

Richard McCreadie, chief criminal deputy for Pierce county, said Taft shot the other members of his family with a rifle as they lay sleeping in bed. Then, he said, Taft lay down on the bed beside his wife and shot himself in the head.

Assistant chief of police Jim Rooker said Taft had been worried about his health and had wanted to buy a service station but couldn't finance it. Rooker added Taft's wife apparently had opposed the venture.

Yugoslavia Hopes To Get Arms In U. S.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Col. Gen. Koca Popovic, chief of staff of the Yugoslav army, says he is hopeful his country will be able to obtain arms from the United States.

Following a call on secretary of state Acheson yesterday, Popovic told newsmen his three-week mission to find more weapons for his army was "satisfactory." He indicated he hopes for arms on a grant basis.

U. S. officials have indicated this country is ready to give Marshal Tito's communist but anti-Russian regime substantial quantities of arms if Yugoslavia askes for them. Tito would have to agree to use them only for defense and not to transfer or sell them without U. S. consent.

Ford Plant Starts Layoffs At Windsor

WINDSOR, Ont.—(AP)— Ford Motor company of Canada will start layoffs of 9,000 of its 11,000 workers next week.

Rhys M. Sale, company president, said production of all vehicles except those for export will be suspended June 15-26 and the entire plant will be closed for inventory June 27-29.

After July 3, Dominion Day holiday, he said, manufacturing will resume under a curtailed program.

Sale said that retail sales were not keeping up with shipments of vehicles He blamed increased government taxes and credit curbs.

Candidates Coy About Entering Presidential Race

dandy. If he does not, Mr. Truman asks the delegates to support the man of his choice. Simple as that.

Even Jonathan Daniels, Raleigh, N. C., editor and Truman biographer, said after a White House visit yesterday he thinks — but doesn't know— that Mr. Truman is going to run again. He didn't get that from the president, Daniels hastened to say, but added:

"The more his foreign policy—which he considers vital to resist Russian aggression and preserve democracy—is attacked, the more he will fight back."

This kind of report makes it difficult for other Democrats to do much about running for president. They can't even run for vice president as long as Alben Barkley gives no indication of stepping out.

Taft No. 1 Prospect

Small wonder, then, that such Democrats as Senators Kefauver of Tennessee, Douglas of Illinois, Lyndon Johnson of Texes, Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. Justice William O. Douglas, chief Justice Fred Vinson, Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, and others are as coy as school girls.

Look magazine says in its current issue it polled 41 Democratic senators and found only five who named Mr. Truman as their first choice to make next year's race. It said 15 favored Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The Republicans have no such barrier as the Democrats but the nearest they have to an avowed candidate is Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio. Taft says he expects to decide sometime before Sept. 1 whether to run.

President Harold E. Stassen of the University of Pennsylvania, who has tried before, says he will wait until next January to decide what to do.

Nobody Wants Job?

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the two-time presidential nominee of the party, says he's out of it and is plugging Eisenhower.

Gov. Earl Warren of California obviously is going to make an active bid for the nomination—but he isn't saying so publicly.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur says "emphatically no" he's not a candidate. Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey might like to be, but isn't admitting it publicly.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., of Massachusetts is mighty busy lining things up to run again for the Senate. Senator Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois might be enticed into the race, but not right now, thanks. Senator James H. Duff of Pennsylvania says he wants to make a president, not be one.

Senator Kenneth S. Wherry of Nebraska is keeping his cards close to his vest. Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine probably could be convinced she ought to run for vice president but is awaiting events.

Senator Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis) gives signs of national ambitions, but displays an unusual reticence about them.

The most talked about man in both parties is Eisenhower. But it's months since anybody got him mad enough even to deny he wants to be president.

And so it goes. You'd almost think nobody wanted the job.

Former Beaver Dam Mayor Gets Prison Term For Forgery

JUNEAU, Wis.—(AP)— A former army major and once mayor of Beaver Dam, Wis., was sentenced yesterday to 30 to 56 years in the Wisconsin State prison on 64 charges of forgery, obtaining money under false pretenses and larceny as bailee.

Verne H. Knoll, 34, pleaded guilty to all 64 counts resulting from the disappearance of about $250,000 which clients had entrusted to him as an attorney. An auditor said "the probable figure" was between $225,000 and $240,000.

Sentence was imposed by Circuit Judge Roland J. Steinle of Milwaukee.

Knoll's financial operations, most of which covered the period while he still was mayor, were described by Gails Parent, certified public accountant, as a "gigantic jigsaw puzzle." Parent added that Knoll's operations included financing of farm machinery and loans; and investments in farms, harness horses, taverns, restaurants, a basketball team and a chinchilla ranch.

Service Commission Studies Manistique $200,000 Power Deal

LANSING — (AP)—A petition by the Edison Power Co. of Sault Ste. Marie to purchase the Manistique Light and Power Co. was under study by the Michigan Public Service commission today.

Company officials told the commission the purchase price agreed on was $200,000.

The Manistique company serves as a distribution agency for Manistique and vicinity, purchasing its power at wholesale from the Edison Sault company. The Manistique company is a subsidiary of the Mead Corp., a paper manufacturer.

Baby Contest Is Scheduled July 4

A baby contest will be held in Escanaba as a part of the Fourth of July observance, it has been announced by the city recreation department.

Approximately 25 entries competed in the 1950 baby contest and larger entry list is anticipated this year. Prizes will be awarded to the first four places. Judging will be at 2:30 p. m. on July 4 at the bandstand in Ludington Park.

Entrants may be either boys or girls between the ages of two and four. Babies will be judged on beauty, personality and poise. Deadline for entries is July 2 at the city recreation department, 330 S. 14th street. Entry should include the names of the child, age, address and phone number.

Hungarian Catholic Prelate Accused Of Plot Against Reds

By ENDRE MARTON

BUDAPEST, Hungary —(AP) — Archbishop Joszef Grosz, 64, highest ranking Roman Catholic prelate in Hungary since the imprisonment of Jozef Cardinal Mindszenty, goes on trial Friday on charges of plotting against the Communist government, black market currency dealings, helping persons to flee this country and other offenses.

This was announced in the Budapest press today, in a government indictment against the archbishop and eight others. The indictment said all "confessed."

Among the others is Dr. Elajos Pongracz, a Hungarian employe of the United States information service in Budapest.

Pongracz, 42, was arrested a month ago. The appearance of his name among those of the defendants makes it clear that the "legation of an imperialist power" mentioned in the indictment many times, is the American legation here.

Rock Resident, 51, Killed In Headon Crash At Trenary

dition good, mild concussion, bruised chest.

Uninjured in the accident was Colleen Plemon, one and one-half years old. The three children are daughters of Mrs. Plemon and the youngest is being kept at the hospital temporarily.

Seven in Car

The accident occurred about 9:30 o'clock last night on US-41 a short distance south of Trenary in Delta county. The death marked the first Delta county traffic fatality so far this year.

State police and Dr. Otto S. Hult, coroner, investigated the accident.

The car driven by Birch, who died in the tangled wreckage, was traveling south. The other car, containing seven persons, was going north toward Marquette, state police reported.

Hit Almost Head-On

An occupant of the Wisconsin automobile was reported to have told state police the Birch car swung across the road directly into their path.

The driver of the Wisconsin car, not yet determined because of the injuries to the occupants, attempted to avoid the collision by swerving off the pavement. The two cars hit almost head-on at the east edge of the concrete.

The injured were taken to St. Francis hospital for treatment.

Birch Funeral Friday

Mr. Birch was born November 22, 1899 in Rapid River and lived there until 20 years ago, when he moved to Rock on the Osier road.

He is survived by his wife, the former Ila Ward, and one son, Victor at home, by a brother, Edward of Rock, and by four sisters, Mrs. Lester Labumbard of Nahma, Mrs. Horace Labumbard of Rapid River, Mrs. Elmer Nelson of Moline, Ill., and Mrs. Chester Larson of Rock Island, Ill.

Funeral services will be held in the Allo funeral home chapel Friday afternoon at 2 with Rev. James Ward officiating. Burial will be in the Rapid River cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning Thursday at 4.

British Take Steps To Cut Off Goods Going To Red China

LONDON — (AP) — Britain announced today she is taking steps to block all shipments of strategic goods to Red China through the crown colony of Hong Kong.

Sir Hartley Shawcross, president of the board of trade, said all exports from the united kingdom to Hong Kong and China will go under licensing control next Tuesday. No licenses will be granted for "goods which in the present circumstances could be of strategic and military importance."

Florida Water Ski Thrill Show To Perform Here Monday, July 2

The Tommy Bartlett Florida water ski show presents its pageant of thrills, spills and chills in Escanaba on Monday, July 2, as a special entertainment feature of the national convention of the Outdoor Writers Association of America.

The Program, sponsored by members of the Escanaba Chamber of Comerce, will be presented near the Escanaba municipal dock or the yacht basin, depending upon weather conditions. There will be two performances, at 1 and 7 p. m.

Origin Of Sport

Skiing forsook the snowy slopes of a mountain for the foaming surface of water because of a dare. Oddly enough this American thrill sport is an import and the brain-child of mountaineers.

It was in 1929 when members of the Chasseurs Alpins, crack mountain ski troops were holiday-ing at Lake of Annecy in the French Alps. Watching aqua-planers skim the waves, one of the soldiers dared the other to try ski-joering behind the racing craft.

The dare was all the daredevil needed to send him searching for shorter and wider skis than those he wore on duty. He returned and rode the waves to the cheers of the crowd on the shore.

Caught On In U. S.

The sport caught on with the rich and rollicking on the French Riverie and next turned up in Florida. In 1936 the first commercial skis were put on sale and three years later the American Water Ski association was formed with the first national championship held at Jones Beach State Park in New York. The meet, with its three events of trick riding, slalom riding and high jumping, set the pattern for future competition.

Tommy Bartlett is known to radio fans as the master of ceremonies of the Welcome Traveler show, broadcast from Chicago. He became interested in water skiing as a hobby, and eventually organized a professional troupe. Seven nationally known water skiers now travel with the Tommy Bartlett show.

HEAVENLY HITCHHIKE! — Dick Rowe of Winter Haven, Florida, finds he has an attractive hitch-hiker in Ann Williamson of Miami, who came along for the ride! The two champions execute top-side tandem in the Tommy Bartlett Florida water ski thrill show, which will appear on Little Bay de Noc at Escanaba for two performances on Monday, July 2.

Wake Up To More Comfort

Without Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Advocate Grass Silage Making

Livestock Feeding Value Is Cited

Grass silage will lengthen the season during which good hay can be harvested by making early cutting a safe procedure, says Delta county agricultural agent J. L. Heirman. Grass silage makes hay harvest less dependent upon good haying weather.

C. J. Little, Upper Peninsula extension livestock specialist for Michigan State College, says that grass silage improves silage qualily by earlier cutting, by saving leaves and by avoiding withering. He agrees with the agent that high quality silage comes from high quality forage.

Well fertilized legume and legume-grass mixtures cut at the early bloom stage give both hay quality and hay yield. Alfalfa and alfalfa-brome grass are the highest yielding forage crops commonly used for silage.

Good silage can also be made from clover, clover and timothy, sweet clover, reed canary grass, oats and oats and peas. All are good, Little says.

Acre-yields of dry matter from alfalfa are about the same as from corn growing on the same land.

A two-ton first cutting hay crop will make about six tons of grass silage per acre (three tons of silage for each ton of hay).

McMillan

Amateur Show

MCMILLAN—The second performance of the amateur shows sponsored by the McMillan Youth Center under the direction of Charles Steel, director of the McMillian General Athletic association was presented Thursday evening in the Newberry community building to a fair sized audience. Participants gave a large number of excellent acts and displayed much talent.

Winners in the teen-age group were Stanley Good, first prize; Miss Wentland, second; Al Williams, third; and Miss Janet Painter, fourth. In the younger group, Jeannine Pelletier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Pelletier of Lakefield township again took first prize; Laurel Painter, second; a young lady from Engadine, third and Bernadine Sampsell, fourth. Two quartets from Sault Ste. Marie provided an added attraction and were generously applauded. Further performances are projected for the coming months. Proceeds from the shows will be used to finance a recreation program for the young folks.

A series of Saturday night dances beginning June 23, sponsored by the McMillan Youth Center will be given in the Columbus township hall. Music will be provided by the Three Notes from Engadine with Miss Janet Painter, vocalist. Dances will run from nine until one o'clock. Parents will be admitted free the first night.

ATOM BOMB DEFENSE CALLS FOR PREPAREDNESS

TO MOST OF US an atom bomb would mean fire—hundreds of fires for seven to eight miles beyond the blast, according to the Civil Defense Administration. In addition to the heat generated up to two miles away the powerful jolt would disrupt furnaces, stoves, electric wiring, water services and fire departments. So the National Board of Fire Underwriters suggests fireproof housekeeping, removal of combustibles and taking the steps shown here to be prepared: (NEA Newsfeatures)

BASIC emergency kits including three day's supply of canned food, drinking water, solid alcohol stove, flashlight, radio.

FIRE FIGHTING equipment calls for a four-gallon pump extinguisher, stirrup pump, shovel and buckets for sand and water.

IF ALERT sounds fill bathtubs and buckets with water while there's still pressure in the mains, the experts advise.

TAKE FAMILY to the safest room. In many homes this may mean the basement. Stay in a sheltered spot till All Clear sounds.

Marquess Will Marry Another Girl

LONDON—(AP)—One of Princess Margaret's most devoted escorts is getting married, to somebody else.

He is the Marquess of Landford —John George Vanderbilt Henry Spencer-Churchill. His friends call him "sonny" for short.

His engagement to Miss Susan Hornby, 21, close friend of Princess Margaret, was announced today.

The Marquess, 25, is the heir of the Duke of Marlborough. A six-footer, he is captain in the life guards, the King's personal bodyguard. He has often been seen in the company of Princess Margaret and some linked their names romantically. Close friends of both, however, had insisted the Marquess had his heart set on Miss Hornby all the time. They had been friends since childhood.

Miss Hornby is the daughter of Michael C. Hornby, director of W. H. Smith, Britain's largest chain of booksellers.

Medicine Goes Far In Decade

Dr. J. Dehlin Tells Of Recent Strides

An informative as well as interesting word picture of the progress made in medicine in the past 10 or 12 years was presented before the Gladstone Rotary club Monday noon by Dr. James Dehlin.

Strides in surgery, particularly in the matter of chest surgery, were great and of far reaching importance. Then there is the operation which gives promise that so called 'blue babies' may live normal life span.

Among drugs which have changed the entire picture of medicine from the practicioner's standpoint are the sulfas, penicillin, cortisone, streptomicin and ACTH.

Standards of schooling for physicians also have been raised so that four years of pre-med, four years at medical school and interning is now almost standard throughout the nation.

The American Medical Association also is constantly working to keep practicioners informed on the latest developments in the medical world.

The meeting wound up on a humorous note when E. H. Huesener unveiled a new and original version of a lectern or speakers stand.

Donald Johnston, son of Clayton Johnston, was a guest at the meeting.

Non-Jury Session Of Circuit Court Opens On Monday

The non-jury term of circuit court opened yesterday afternoon with hearing of naturalization applications, a review of the calendar by Judge Herbert W. Runnels, and the hearing of two divorce actions. Court adjourned at 4:20 and reconvened today.

A plea of guilty on two counts, desertion and non-support, was entered by William L. Perry. The only other criminal action on the docket, the case of Donald Houghton for maintenance of a child born out of wedlock, was continued.

The civil action of William Jenerou against Mrs. William Rodman, jr., and Mrs. William Rodman, sr., was declared ready for trial. Another civil suit, that of Patricia Fredericks against Erroll A. and Grace H. Abell, assumpsit, was scheduled for hearing today.

Two other civil actions listed as ready for hearing were added to the calendar after it was printed. They are Twentieth Century Paint company vs. Multhaupt Bros., default, and Walter P. Linderoth vs. Frank Hawes, motion.

The rest of the civil cases, and all chancery actions, were continued.

Clarinet Players Needed In Summer Band Classes Here

More clarinet students are needed for the summer band classes now in progress, it is reported by Joseph Giovannini, high school band director.

Out of 17 students enrolled, only two are clarinet players. "We need several more clarinet students unless we want to wind up with a big brass band," Giovannini said.

The band director is appealing to new students who have not yet made their instrument selection to consider the clarinet. Anyone in the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth grades is invited to contact Giovannini and discuss instrument selection. Clarinets are available, either new or rebuilt.

The summer band program is now in its second week. The classes are designed to provide replacements for the high school junior band which, in turn, provides players for the senior high band.

Manistique Study Club Members Give Picture To Hospital

A large picture by Nile J. Behncke, well known Wisconsin artist, was presented recently to the Schoolcraft Memorial hospital by the Manistique Study club in memory of Edith Rood Eriksen and Floye Calhoun White, it is announced.

The picture, a water color, depicts an autumn scene characteristic of the Upper Peninsula. The painting will hang in the hospital lobby.

Mrs. Eriksen and Mrs. White were active and enthusiastic members of the study club during its early years.

Mrs. Eriksen, whose husband, the late Harry Eriksen, was prominent in Manistique civic and political life for many years, was herself active in civic affairs and served one term as president of the Manistique Women's club.

Mrs. White during her residence in Manistique was active in Girl Scout work, serving as troop leader and also as counselor at the first Girl Scout camp, held near Escanaba. Her husband, Roger White, was connected with the Civilian Conservation Corps program here in the thirties. Later Mr. and Mrs. White operated the Uno resort in northeastern Delta county. Mr. White now resides in Jackson, Mich.

Another Korean Combat Veteran Arrives Sunday

Sgt. William Pistulka, 23, a veteran of 10 months in Korea, arrived Sunday to spend a 30-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Pistulka, 135 South Houghton avenue.

It is Sgt. Pistulka's first visit home since he entered military service two and one-half years ago

Sgt. Pistulka, it is believed, is the third county veteran to return home under the army's new rotation system. He is a Korean combat veteran, having seen front line service with the second division. Since January he has been an honor guard.

The Manistique soldier arrived in San Francisco last Wednesday and then went by air to Chicago where he purchased himself a car. He drove home from Chicago Sunday, stopping in Milwaukee to pick up his sister, Miss Marilyn Pistulka who is completing her final year as a student nurse at the Milwaukee County School of Nursing. Miss Pistulka returned to Milwaukee by bus Sunday evening.

Economic Problems Of War Cited By Speaker

Economi problems which will develop in an all-out war and suggested solutions for them, as discussed at a recent course in Economic Mobilization for War in Detroit, were described to Manistique Rotarians Monday noon by Attorney Merrill Johnson.

Attorney Johnson, a local reserve officer, attended the course which was conducted in Detroit in May by the Armed Forces Industrial College. The instruction was given for reserve officers and selected civilians.

The Rotary speaker reviewed the National Defense Act of 1947, which he said was the basis for the present industrial mobilization program, and compared the resources of the United States and the Soviet Union.

The comparison, he pointed out, was based on three factors—material resources, manpower, and the "will to fight."

Short In Manpower

In material resources, the speaker said, the United States compared favorably with Russia, but fell far short in manpower. If war should develop between the two nations, he pointed out, it would be the first time in this country's history that it faced an enemy without a preponderance of both material and human resources. In all other wars the United States has had vastly superior forces in its fight against the enemy, including the Civil War, the Spanish-American War, and both World Wars.

In connection with the manpower shortage, Attorney Johnson said that as a result of a low birthrate during the depression years the United States will have an 11 per cent decrease in men between the ages of 20 and 24 during 1955. In contrast with this the Soviet Union will have an increase of 5 to 10 per cent for the same year.

In describing the Soviet will to fight, the speaker said that Kremlin leaders are ruthless, fanatic and realistic, that the Russian people are hardy, industrious and intelligent, and that an expansionist, pioneering spirit has developed in Russia during the past few years.

He pointed out that in Siberia the Soviets have established three self-contained centers of pioneer civilization, any one of which could support a limited war effort without dependence on the others.

Weaknesses in the Soviet area, the speaker said, include poor and inadequate transportation and insufficient oil, both of which the Russians are desperately trying to correct. He pointed out that in previous conflicts in which Russia has been involved, victory over the Russians has been obtained in wars limited in scope. These limited wars so disrupted the Russian economic and transportation system that the nation was happy to accept defeat and sue for peace.

In conclusion, Attorney Johnson that if the United States becomes involved in total war against Russia, this country must be prepared to accept a stringently controlled economy if victory is to be achieved.

Arrowhead Ski Club Will Meet Wednesday

The Arrowhead Ski club will meet at 7 p. m. Wednesday at the ski clubhouse, it is announced. All members are requested to be present.

Officers of the club are: Morris Powers, president; Bob Smits, vice president; Bill Ekdahl, secretary-treasurer.

Another rained out week of baseball here and it will take a Philadelphia lawyer to figure out who plays who and when . . The Bay de Noc league has been particularly hard hit . . Not a single team in the circuit has played all its scheduled games to date . . Manistique and Rapid River have both played only two of five scheduled contests . . In the Tri-County wheel only Escanaba has played all seven scheduled games.

• • • • •

By the way, we're getting a little tired of this rat race on Monday mornings . . Yesterday morning only one Tri-County league manager showed enough consideration to call us up and say his home game had been called off because of rain . . Neither of the managers of the two winning teams called in.

• • • • •

Here's how we're going to work this thing from now on . . . The manager of the winning team calls in, or turns in a scorebook or score sheet, by 9:30 the morning following the game . . If the game is rained out or not played for some other reason, the manager of the home team reports in . . At 9:30 we start wrapping up the baseball stories and standings . . If your report isn't in by that time we can't use it at all.

• • • • •

We're not trying to get tough about this thing . . Just look at it this way . . There are 10 teams in the Tri-County league, eight teams in the Bay de Noc league and six teams in the Waubung league . . And there's Gladstone in the U. P. league . . That adds up to a big batch of baseball every Monday . . We can't figure out why we're having all this trouble with team managers . . There's nothing new about this system of calling in the results of games . . Managers have been doing it for years all over the country . . And yet we haven't had a Monday this season that we haven't had to call all over this end of the Peninsula looking for somebody to tell us how a particular ball game came out.

• • • • •

We expect to be on this job for some time so we might as well get this straightened out now . . With baseball team managers, as with coaches and managers in any other sport, we'll be glad to go more than half way . . If there's anything we can do for you in the line of publicity or anything else, give us a ring or drop up and explain what you want . . We'll do the best job we can . . But don't forget that it's a two-way proposition and we feel we have every right to demand cooperation on results and follow-ups.

• • • • •

We hope this is taken in the same attitude it's given . . We're not mad at anyone, but as we said we are sick of this monkeying around every Monday morning trying to find the ball game results . . From now on it's up to you managers.

Big Test For White Sox In Yank Series Opening Today

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Baseball's big question — how good are the White Sox?—may get its answer in the next 72 hours.

Opening with a double header today, Chicago's "Rags-to-Richards" club takes on the defending champion Yankees in an important four-game series in New York.

Both clubs rested yesterday as only six teams saw action. Cleveland moved a step closer to the American league leaders, outslugging the Red Sox in Boston, 9-7. Bob Feller, although hit hard, staggered to his 10th victory against one defeat. Harry Taylor was the loser.

Bob Feller

The New York Giants nipped the St. Louis Cards, 5-4, in 12 innings and the Chicago Cubs shaded the Boston Braves, 5-4. The Giants trail the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers by 5½ games.

Sox In Good Shape

The Yankees must sweep the four games to displace the Sox at the top of the league as Chicago leads by 3½ games. The Chicagoans appeared in good shape following their two wins in Philadelphia Sunday after the Athletics had captured the first three games of the series.

White Sox skipper Paul Richards reached into his pitching grab bag and came up with another surprise starter in young Marvin Rotblatt. The little rookie from Memphis was to hurl one of today's games. Joe Dobson, curley-haired veteran obtained from the Boston Red Sox last winter, was to pitch the other.

Casey Stengel of the Yankees announced he would counter with Vic Raschi, his ace, and Stubby Overmire, recently obtained from the St. Louis Browns. A crowd of 40,000 was expected today with perhaps another 30,000 attending each of the singles on Wednesday and Thursday.

Feller Needs Help

Feller was supported by a 14-hit attack yesterday and needed all of those safeties, too. He went into the last half of the ninth with a 9-4 bulge and appeared on the way to an easy win.

But Ted Williams received a free pass. Feller retired Vern Stephens but walked Bobby Doerr. Manager Al Lopez summoned Mike Garcia, who walked Clyde Vollmer to load the bases. Walt Dropo singled in two runs and Less Moss drove in another. Lou Boudreau walked to load the bases.

Lopez then called in Lou Brissie. The lefthander was superb, striking out the dangerous Billy Goodman and getting Johnny Pesky on a groundout.

Three Homers

Sam Chapman was the big Indian slicker. He got four hits including a home run. Al Rosen and Ray Boone also homered.

A double by Bruce Edwards followed by Bob Borkowski's single in the last half of the ninth broke up a 4-4 tie and gave the Cubs their 5-4 over Boston.

Monte Irvin's single off the left field wall scored Hank Thompson in the 12th inning with the run that won for the Giants over the Cards. Thompson had opened the frame with a double off loser Clyd Boyer.

Sal Maglie, who relieved starter Dave Koslo in the ninth when the Cards tallied twice to tie the score at 4-4, was the winner. It was his 11th win, tops in the majors.

Whitey Lockman, Willie Mays and Alvin Dark homered for the Giants.

Minerick will also be assistant football coach at Hudson.

Tiger Manager Orders End To 'Easy Living'

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — The Detroit Tigers are in for hard work and early hours.

Manager Red Rolfe, furious over three shutouts in five eastern games to date, has decreed an end to "easy living."

Instead of sleeping late, all players will be called at 8 a. m., following a day game. That's for batting practice.

After a night game, they can sleep in late—until 8:30.

"I don't know what's wrong with the club," the ordinarily mild Rolfe said Monday, "but I intend to find out.

"I want to see these fellows in the dining room early every morning. I'll be there to look them over."

The crackdown is the severest of his three years as Tiger chief, and he's looking sharply at his batsmen.

"Pitching," he said, "looked like it was going to be our problem. But it has been consistently good.

"The hitting, though, has fallen off so sharply we're wasting fine pitching.

"On this road trip, we've had five exceptionally well-pitched games, yet we've won only two of them."

The implication was that the Tigers had better find their batting eyes, or else.

Tonight, with two days of extensive batting practice under their belts, the Bengals open a three game series against the Athletics.

Rolfe has picked Paul "Dizzy" Trout, 35-year-old righthander who turned in a beauty of a game against Boston last week, to open the series. Old Diz has won three and lost seven.

Jimmy Dykes, A's Manager, probably will start Sam Zoldak, who has two losses against no wins.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching—Lou Brissie, Indians—Relieved Mike Garcia with the bases loaded and one out in the ninth, fanned Billy Goodman and retired Johnny Pesky on a grounder to preserve Cleveland's 9-7 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Cubs Will Face Bears; Jack Chriske To Hurl

Coach Al Ness announced today that he will start young Jack Chriske for the Cubs in their intra-city clash with the Tri-County league leading Escanaba Bears tomorrow afternoon at the city diamond.

The Cubs will be at full strength for the game and will be seeking revenge for a 3-0 defeat suffered last season in the annual game. The Cubs won three years ago but haven't been able to turn the trick since.

Considerable interest has been shown in the game and a large crowd is expected to see the two teams in action. Coach Ness said he will use Jo-Jo Johnston behind the plate, Paul Gunderman on first, Edward Lindquist on second, John Martinac on third, Pete Kutches at short, Tom Brien in left field, Paul Baldwin in center and Tip Larmay in right.

The Cubs will have Jim Christiansen, Bob Sandenburgh, Fred Boddy and Tom Cass in reserve.

The Cubs are undefeated in Waubung league play and share the loop lead with Menominee. The juniors promise to shape up into one of the best Legion nines in the Peninsula and may be capable of giving the Bears an even battle.

City Junior Baseball Games Begin Tomorrow

Junior baseball sponsored by the city recreation department will get under way tomorrow with 13 teams competing in three age groups.

Six teams are entered in the eight to 12 group, six in 12-14 and one in 15-17. Director Jerome Deloria announced that there is plenty of room for more teams and there is also room for more players on the teams already signed up. If any boys are interested they are urged to contact Director Deloria.

The following team rosters were announced:

Dock Diamond—James Anderson, Jim Bourdeau, Ronald Ely, Donald Franks, Kenneth Kositzky, Wally Severinsen and James Therrian.

Kirby's—David Barkow, Bobby Degrand, Dickie Dupont, Jerry Dupont, Paul French, Richard Guimond, Donald Johnson, Michael Nordin, Craig Petersen, Billy Rae and Billy Wellman.

Coca Cola—Nick Bink, Robert Bink, John Erickson, Robert Gravelle, Eugene Hamm, Arnold Johnson, Jan Morin, Danny Kidd, Sydney Milkiewicz, Pat Mullin, David Pinozek and Vern Valind.

Thursday—10 a. m.: Coca Cola vs. Dock No. 2; 1:30, Wells vs. St. Ann; 3:30, Dock vs. Kirby's.

Althea Gibson Finds It Tough

First Negro Tennis Champ In Wimbledon

LONDON—(AP)—Althea Gibson, first American Negro tennis champion to hit the English tournament trail that leads to hallowed Wimbledon, wrapped her long legs around a folding chair and declared emphatically:

"Yes sir, it's tough over here. You've got to be good to win."

The 23-year-old South Carolina girl, who stands five feet 10 inches, is playing in the London grass courts championships this week—her third major English tournament.

She lost to Doris Hart of Jacksonville, Fla., in the finals of the north of England championships at Manchester and to Betty Rosenquest of South Orange, N. J., in the semifinals of the Kent county championships at Beckenham last week.

Finest In Wimbledon

Next Monday she will be the first American Negro to play in the world famous all-England championships at Wimbledon.

"I haven't seen Wimbledon yet," she said, "but they tell me its a wonderful place. Im looking forward to it.

"The competition is getting better all the time I'm playing in everything I can—singles, doubles and mixed doubles. These grass ccurts are very fast and I'm still trying to get the feel of them.

The experts have praised her power, her service and her speed. But they have criticized her lack of consistency, pointing out that in the tournaments here she has had a tendency to hit bad streaks.

"Any athlete is bound to do that sooner or later," Miss Gibson said. 'You can't be good all the time. I always try to do my best."

What about her chances at Wimbledon?

"I wouldn't like to say," she replied.

Farm Clubs Are Hot For Tigers

Seven Of Eight In First Division

DETROIT — (AP)—Bad as things are with the Detroit Tigers these days, the Bengals can look at some silver linings in their eight minor league farm clubs.

Seven of the clubs rank higher in their respective circuits than do the Tigers, who are fifth in the American league standings.

Two clubs, Little Rock of the Southern Association and Jamestown of the New York State Pony league, hold commanding leads in their loops, thanks to good pitching.

The Little Rock Travelers, managed by Gene De Sautels, boast a six-game advantage over their nearest rivals. Jamestown's lead in the Pony circuit is three games.

Davenport, Tiger affiliate in the Three-Eye league, holds down second spot and is only three games out of first. Durham, another Bengal club, ranks third in the North Carolina league.

Three other Tiger-related teams —Toledo in the American Association, Richmond in the Indiana-Ohio league, and Warsaw in the Wisconsin State league—all are fourth in their circuits.

The only team to rank lower than the Tigers is Williamsport of the Eastern league. Manager Schoolboy Rowe's charges there are an extremely poor last.

WATERSMEET PROSPECT

The potential Tigers among the minor league affiliates include pitchers Milo Johnson of Watersmeet, Mich. and Bob Cruze at Little Rock, Ed McNulty and Jim Stump at Jamestown, and Bill Hoeft at Toledo. Johnson claims a 9-2 record while Cruze, a rookie, has a 5-1 mark. McNulty has won seven and lost two. Stump has six victories and no losses.

Hoeft, who came close to sticking with the Tigers in spring training, has compiled a 6-6 mark but has several well pitched games to his credit.

Mary Agnes Wall In Western Open

Menominee Miss To Face Louise Suggs

BULLETIN

Medalist Louise Suggs of Carrollton, Ga., gained the quarter finals for the Women's Western open golf tournament at Whitemarsh Valley country club today, triumphing 4 and 3 over Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich.

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)— Louise Suggs proved she's not much good at prognosticating but maybe the medalist of the 22nd annual Women's Western open golf championship doesn't know her own strength

Little Miss Suggs predicted not many would break women's par 75 over the 6,670-yard Whitemarsh Valley Country Club course. She was sure none would even come close to the course record of 66.

So freckle-faced Louise fired a sensational seven-under-par 68 yesterday, second best round in Western history.

Miss Suggs faced Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich., in the first of 16 championship bracket matches today. Two of the day's best matches pitted Mrs. George (Babe) Zaharias against Peggy Kirk of Findlay, Ohio, and Patty Berg against Grace Lenczyk, former national amateur champion.

Mrs. Zaharias, apparently tired from the 180-hole cross country weathervane tournament she lost by a stroke to Miss Berg, shot one of her poorest rounds, an 83. Miss Berg shot a 73.

Shirley Spork, Ferndale, Mich., pro., carded a 37-38—75 for sixth place among the 32 qualifiers. She was paired today with Mrs. John Capers, jr., of Philadelphia, who had a 39-43—83.

Miss Wall shot a 39-41—80 for a four-way tie for tenth position.

Pat Devany, third Michigan qualifier, from Grosse Ile, registered a 41-41—83 and ranked 13th. Paired today with Alice Bauer, Midland, Tex. pro who shot 41-36—77.

Brewers Regain Lead In Association Race

(By The Associated Press)

The Milwaukee Brewers perched precariously as a fresh leader in the hot American Association race which today found the first five contenders separated by only five games.

The Brews moved a half-game in front with a 6-2 triumph over the Columbus Red Birds while Toledo's Mud Hens nudged the Kansas City Blues off the top rung with a 10-inning, 6-5 win at Kansas City.

Louisville and Indianapolis were not scheduled.

Bob Elliott Has Lead In Third Base Poll

CHICAGO — (AP) — Bob Elliott, 34-year-old Boston Braves' star, today zoomed far ahead in the nation-wide pole to decide the National league's starting third-baseman in the 18th All-Star major league baseball game in Detroit July 10.

Elliott already has played in three All-Star games, making his debut 10 years ago in the 1941 contest. With 96,679 votes garnered, Bob is 22,245 votes ahead of his closest rival, Willie Jones of the Philadelphia Phils.

Minoso Leads In American

CHICAGO—(AP)—Orestes Minoso, the swift swatter of the high-flying Chicago White Sox, today held a 23-point lead in the American league batting race with a .379 mark.

Minoso last week clubbed 14 hits in 27 trips to climb 25 points from a fourth-place .354. Second with .356 was Philadelphia's Ferris Fain.

Big Ten Honored On All-District

EAST LANSING — (AP)—All but one position on the NCAA District Four all-district team went to Western Conference baseball players.

The roster, chosen by district coaches, was announced today by John H. Kobs, Michigan State college coach and chairman of the selection committee.

Ohio State, the pennant winner, placed two on the mythical team, Michigan and Illinois two, and one each came from Minnesota, Indiana, Michigan State and Western Michigan. The latter is the mid-America conference champion.

The infield was composed of Al Waygandt, Michigan, first base; Dick Raklovits, Illinois, third base; Jim Anderson, Minnesota, second base, and Gene Ring, Indiana, shortstop.

Two pitchers named were right-hander Don Edwards of Western Michigan, and Dick Hauck, Ohio State southpaw.

U. P. Girls Set Softball Rules

Tournament Plans Are Also Adopted

The Upper Peninsula Girls' Softball association this season will affiliate with the Men's U. P. association, it was announced today after meetings held recently in Escanaba and Houghton.

The girls also voted to use the same rules governing tournament play of the Men's association.

Two district tournaments will be held this season with the winners meeting in a playoff series for the Peninsula championship. The title series will be a best two of three affair. The winner will be eligible to compete in the class C state tournament to be held in Lansing the final week in August.

District tournaments will be held the first week in August with the playoffs slated the second and third weeks. The playoffs will be held at the site of the district winners.

Deadline for filing team rosters and payment of $10 entry fee was set at July 15.

Chandler Expected To Sign Out On Thursday

CINCINNATI — (AP) — A. B. (Happy) Chandler's days as baseball commissioner grew a bit shorter today.

Chandler notified President Warren Giles of the Cincinnati Reds yesterday that he will arrive here Thursday. The baseball boss, voted down on his bid for a contract renewal, is expected to sign his severance contract with the game the same day.

Stan Musial New Leader

NEW YORK—(AP)—Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals punished the ball at a .500 clip last week—slamming 12 hits in 24 at bats—to zoom his National league batting mark to .382.

This sent the Redbirds' hitting leader 14 points ahead of Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson, who slipped two points to .368. Robinson had eight hits in 23 at bats.

Makeup Game Slated At Rapid River Field

MANISTIQUE—At least one game will be made up in the Bay de Noc Baseball loop this week as Manistique travels to Rapid River Wednesday afternoon for a twilight contest which will get under way at 6:15.

The game is a makeup of last Sunday's rained out schedule. The teams were on hand and ready to take the field when it began raining 10 minutes before starting time. The clubs waited until 4 o'clock but were still unable to start the game.

Rapid River manager stated that the diamond is in good shape for the game tomorrow.

Noel P. Fox Named New Circuit Judge In Muskegon County

MACKINAC ISLAND — (AP) — Noel P. Fox will be Muskegon county's new circuit court judge. Currently he is chairman of the state labor mediation board.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams announced the appointment of Fox here Sunday.

Fox, 40, a Democrat and a follower of the governor, will fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Joseph F. Sanford.

Judge Sanford's unexpired term runs through Dec. 31, 1954. The position pays a minimum salary of $10,000 a year. A second judge recently was authorized for the Muskegon circuit.

In announcing the appointment, Williams said that he had asked Fox to continue serving as mediator in the Detroit transit strike. Fox has taken part in the negotiations over the last week and a half.

President Ruthven Says Farewell As 3,800 Get Degrees

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — (AP) — A weekend of farewells ended at the University of Michigan Monday.

Saturday commencement exercises marked the end of four year's academic work for 3,800 graduating seniors.

The exercises also represented the last official act of retiring university president Alexander Grant Ruthven.

University officials honored Dr. Ruthven and commencement speaker Dr. Ralph Bunche, nobel prize winner and an unofficial. Both men received honorary degrees, Bunche for his efforts in behalf of humanity and Ruthven for his work in education.

No War Before Winter—Babson

Summer Crops Are Too Important

By ROGER BABSON

NEW YORK CITY—During the past few days I have talked with some important people here regarding the possibility of World War III—and when it may or may not be expected.

No War This Summer

My financial friends insist we have nothing to fear during this summer or early fall. The chief assets of Russia and her satellite nations of Rumania, Czechoslovakia, Poland, etc., are their crops, especially their wheat. Hence, Russia will not start World War III until these crops are gathered, transported, distributed and safely stored.

My military friends go further and explain that Russia will not start World War III until the rivers of eastern Europe freeze over so her supply lines cannot be cut by our airplanes bombing bridges. You will remember that the Chinese invasion of Korea did not occur until the Yalu River froze over; but that now the invasion has pretty much stopped. Broken supply lines are apparently licking the Chinese.

Coming Winter Critical

The above means that we have nothing to fear from Russia before winter comes. This coming winter, however, will be a very critical time, especially as the Russians are more accustomed to living, moving and fighting in winter than are the U. S. forces or the Europeans. It is also said that atomic bomb operations can be more effective in winter weather. Russia may start World War III this winter.

The Russians further realize that the United States and the Allies are now arming at a more rapid rate than the Russians can possibly meet. Russia can raise more men than can we and our Allies, but Russia cannot produce airplanes, tanks, guns and other war supplies as fast as we can. All of this leads me to believe that, if the Russians do not strike early in 1952, they have decided to forget World War III for some years to come and await further political developments.

Stocks, Bonds and Commodities

Business and investing may remain on a dead center for the next six months or more. There should be no important price changes until the spring or 1952. If Russia has not started War III by that time, there may then be a letdown in business and prices. Certainly, taxes would not be increased further. But, if Russia should strike next winter whatever Russia decides to do. All skilled workers will be in greater demand, even at higher wages.

Presidential Election Next Year

Added to the above comments, do not forget that another national election comes next year. If Mr. Truman can go to the voters under the slogan "I kept you out of war," he may have a fair chance of re-election. Therefore, the entire Administration will try to delay World War III until after 1952, which may result in pushing it indefinitely away. Do not sell Mr. Truman 'short" yet,—especially if the fighting in Korea stops. This does not change the importance of the prediction that this coming winter will be a very critical period.

But, personally, I go further and say "anything can happen during the years ahead, from a devastating War III to World Peace and a "Golden Age". This means that the most important program is to so plan our family's education, business and investments that we will be able to get on "some way whatever happens." This is a goal very important to pray and work for this month of June as our young people are now graduating from schools and colleges.

TOMORROW'S CHICKEN: $5000 — Charles Vantress, left, of Live Oak, Calif., holds one of the California Cornish-New Hampshire cross birds that won $5000 first prize in a national "chicken-of-tomorrow" contest at Fayetteville, Ark. Extending congratulations is Howard C. Pierce, poultry research director of the food chain which sponsored the meat-chicken improvement contest. Vantress' chicken weighs 4.27 pounds at 12 weeks of age compared to average chicken's weight of about two pounds at that age.

Octave Gerou Is Awarded Commission

FORT RILEY, Kans — Second Lieutenant Octave J. Gerow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aldage Gerow, 214 N. 18th St., Escanaba, Michigan, received his commission in the United States Army at the graduation exercises for Army Officer Candidate Class No. 30 held today at Fort Riley, Kans.

Guest speaker at the graduation exercises was Dan D. Casement, prominent writer and rancher from Manhattan, Kans.

Commissioned in the Reserve Corps, Lieutenant Gerow will now attend branch school for further specialized training.

Rep. Potter Proposes Speed Limit On Ships In St. Mary's River

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. — (AP)—Ore carriers cruising the St. Marys river would slow down if Rep. Potter (R-Mich) has his way.

Rep. Potter said here Sunday in a radio interview that he would attempt to get Great Lakes carriers to slow down voluntarily.

Lacking that, he said, he would offer legislation to take care of the problem.

Residents along the stream have complained that ships have been going too fast, and that their "wash" has caused damage to docks and the land.

Schatter

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Sabourin accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Rene Sabourin of Escanaba to Detroit and Ann Arbor where they will spend their vacation.

Mrs. Mary Hojmacki spent a week with relatives in Chicago.

Victor Auger accompanied his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hubka of Chicago for a three weeks' vacation with relatives in Miami Springs, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Polanowski and children left Friday for a vacation in Chicago.

Altona Greenwood and sons, Jimmy and Rodney, left Sunday for a vacation in Chicago. His father, Arthur Boisvert returned with them following a week's visit here. They also were accompanied as far as Milwaukee by Peter Martin who will attend the funeral of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Walter Martin.

Nan LaVigne of Pinecrest Sanatorium, Powers, spent the weekend at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Racicot and Donna have returned from a visit in Detroit, Milwaukee and Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. Dolores Racicot of Detroit, their niece is visiting here with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richer and daughter, Debra of Detroit are spending two weeks vacationing with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Saindon and Clarence Martin left Friday for Milwaukee to attend the funeral of Mrs. Walter Martin.

Visitors this week at the Joe Michel home were Mrs. John Peltier, Mrs. Marie Mercier and Lloyd Peltier of Escanaba.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Vachon of Escanaba, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Vachon of Calumet and Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Vachon of Norway visited at the Phil Vachon home this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Michel have returned from a visit at the Rudolph Turk home in Iron Mountain.

Kenneth Savage of Milwaukee spent the weekend at his home here.

Felix Poquette of Powers is visiting with the S. W. McInnis family.

Mrs. Louis Tousignant has been dismissed from St. Francis hospital.

Grand Marais

Mrs. Edward Erickson and Edwin and Linda have returned to their home in Grand Marais for the summer, after residing the past several months in Shawano, Wis., where Mr. Erickson is employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Endress jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wickland were in Manistique Sunday to visit Mrs. Alfred Lundquist, a surgical patient at Schoolcraft Memorial hospital. She submitted to an appendectomy and is now recovering. Mrs. Endress and Mrs. Wickland are her daughters.

Mrs. Albert Garsser and son, Albert, and daughter Patsy, returned to Grand Marais this week from Oscoda, where they were guests of Mrs. Garsser's mother, Mrs. J. J Colbath. Harriet Grasser remained in Oscoda with her grandmother.

Edward Cheverette left Friday for his home in Detroit following a vacation at his cottage on East Bay river. Mrs. Cheverette, Mrs. Louis Dowell and Mrs. Steven Tornovish accompanied him to Blaney where he boarded the bus.

Proper tossing, not mixing, is important to the success of your summer salads, advise foods specialists at Michigan State College. Don't stir it as you would a cake, but toss it lightly with two forks or a fork and spoon.
